OVER TEN THOUSAND CONFIDENT AS FOR WILSON FUND CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Wilmington Eclipses All Cities in United States Per Capita.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY HELD RECOUP FOR FINAL ATTACK

Glorious News Announced in Connection With Celebration of Wilson Day—Addresses by Mr. Godwin and Others.

Ten thousand dollars and more! That was the glorious news announced to Democrats of New Hanover at a very creditable rally in honor of Woodrow Wilson Day at Wilson headquarters last night at Front and Princess streets, the successful culmination of a campaign on the part of a Committee of One Hundred to raise the amount named for the Wilson-Marshall campaign fund.

With this record, Wilmington goes to the front of every city in America in the magnitude of its contribution per capita to help finance the campaign of the People's President in the conflict which will end Tuesday in the triumphant election of its one-time citizen to the chief magistracy of the Nation. The occasion was made notable by addresses by a number of leading Democrats of the county, including Congressman Hannibal L. Godwin and W. P. Stacy, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, who delivered personally the message dictated to the American people by Governor Wilson upon the eve of this great election. Mr. Stacy accompanied the address of Governor Wilson with one of his own, which for eloquence, beauty of diction and profound thought and lofty sentiment has had few equals in the hearing of a New Hanover audience in the past decade.

The crowd which assembled for the rally was thoroughly representative of all phases of Wilmington life. Chairman W. A. McGirt, upon whose shoulders has rested largely the responsibility for the finance campaign and who has wrought exceedingly well, presided at the meeting and a few opening remarks explained the significance of Woodrow Wilson Day. He introduced Mr. Chas. N. Evans, one of Wilmington's largest contributors, an original Wilson supporter and one of his most enthusiastic supporters. Mr. Evans spoke briefly but happily and at once evoked the sympathy and attention of the large crowd. He was followed by Mr. H. E. Bonitz, one of the "live wires" of the Committee of One Hundred, who made a rattling good speech and set the audience in the best of humor with a first-class anecdote. In behalf of the committee he thanked profoundly the people of Wilmington for rising to the emergency in the happy hour of need. It was next a pleasure for the people of the county to hear a ringing Democratic address from its Representative-elect, Woodus Kellum, Esq., who spoke on both State and National issues in a clear, concise manner, urging a large vote on Tuesday. Chairman George Harris, of the Democratic County Executive Committee, next gave the audience a brief but very interesting address, pledging his best effort to the cause. Mr. W. B. Cooper was most happy in his references to Wilmington, paying a deserved tribute to the State and National Committee and Messrs. McLean, Daniels and MacRae, the gentlemen on the watchtower in the great contest. He was followed by Mr. D. H. Howes, one of the most energetic and effective chairmen of the sub-committee in the campaign, who made a splendid address in behalf of the Democracy and Governor Wilson. It was appropriate that he should be followed by Mr. S. A. Matthews, one of Mr. Howes' most able lieutenants, who made possibly the wittiest response of the evening and one of splendid application to the present campaign.

Mr. Hugh MacRae, secretary of the State Finance Committee, was introduced by Chairman McGirt as the "man who started all the trouble," a man who is as strong for Wilson as he is strong for Wilmington and as strong for Wilmington as he is for Wilson. Mr. MacRae was greeted with cheers and told something of the practical side of the campaign, stating that $25,000 had been pledged for North Carolina for the Wilson fund and announcing that both North Carolina and Wilmington have more than made good on the proposition.

To Senator-elect Marsden Bellamy fell the happy lot of presenting Congressman Godwin. In doing this Mr. Bellamy made a ringing Democratic speech, exhorted the people to go out Tuesday and vote and bring true on every issue of the campaign. Mr. Godwin rejoiced with Wilmington in the successful climax of its effort and spoke with gratitude of the loyalty of New Hanover to him on every occasion. He discussed both State and National politics in an address of about an hour, explaining fully the theory of government and tracing the history of the great parties. He was heard with much interest and evidences of enthusiasm.

Mr. Stacy, upon introduction, responded with his masterful address and read Governor Woodrow Wilson's appeal to the American people. It is unnecessary to say that Mr. Stacy swept (Continued on Page Five).

Party Chairmen Claim Victory in the Battle of Bal-lots Tuesday.

RECOUP FOR FINAL ATTACK

McCombs Declares Wilson Will Carry Nation by Astounding Majority. Taft Will Win, Says Hill—T. R. Landslide.

New York, Nov. 2.—The general election of 1912 has been turned over to the voters of the United States, according to leaders of the three principal parties. A cessation of activity in all camps today, a recouping of strength for the final attack Monday and an effort Tuesday by each faction to "get out its vote", mark the termination of a campaign conceded to have had but few parallels in the Nation's history.

In all the States polling places will open Tuesday, with the attention of the country focussed upon them. There are few States outside the "Solid South" where results are conceded to be one way or another. Confident claims by Democratic leaders of a sweeping victory are met by emphatic assertions from the Republicans and Progressive managers that they expect success respectively for their Presidential candidates.

The Presidency and Vice Presidency, the House of Representatives, the United States Senate and the State and local governments of many of the most populous commonwealths hang in the balance of Tuesday's election. In New York the Progressive-Republican-Democratic fight for the State ticket has been so keen as to render the outcome uncertain until the votes are counted. In many other States the introduction of Progressive tickets has broken up what has been a normal Republican majority and has made the control of State offices an open question.

Within the last week complete polls of county and State leaders have been made from New York by the chairmen of the three National campaign committees.

Upon the predictions of success that have come from the various States, each of the party leaders claims at the conclusion of the last week of the campaign that his candidate for the Presidency has the assurance of success.

William F. McCombs, Democratic chairman, asserted today that Governor Wilson will carry the Nation by an "astounding majority."

Charles D. Hill, Republican chairman, declared that President Taft was assured of a majority in the electoral college.

Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Progressive chairman, declared that "all indications point to a Roosevelt landslide."

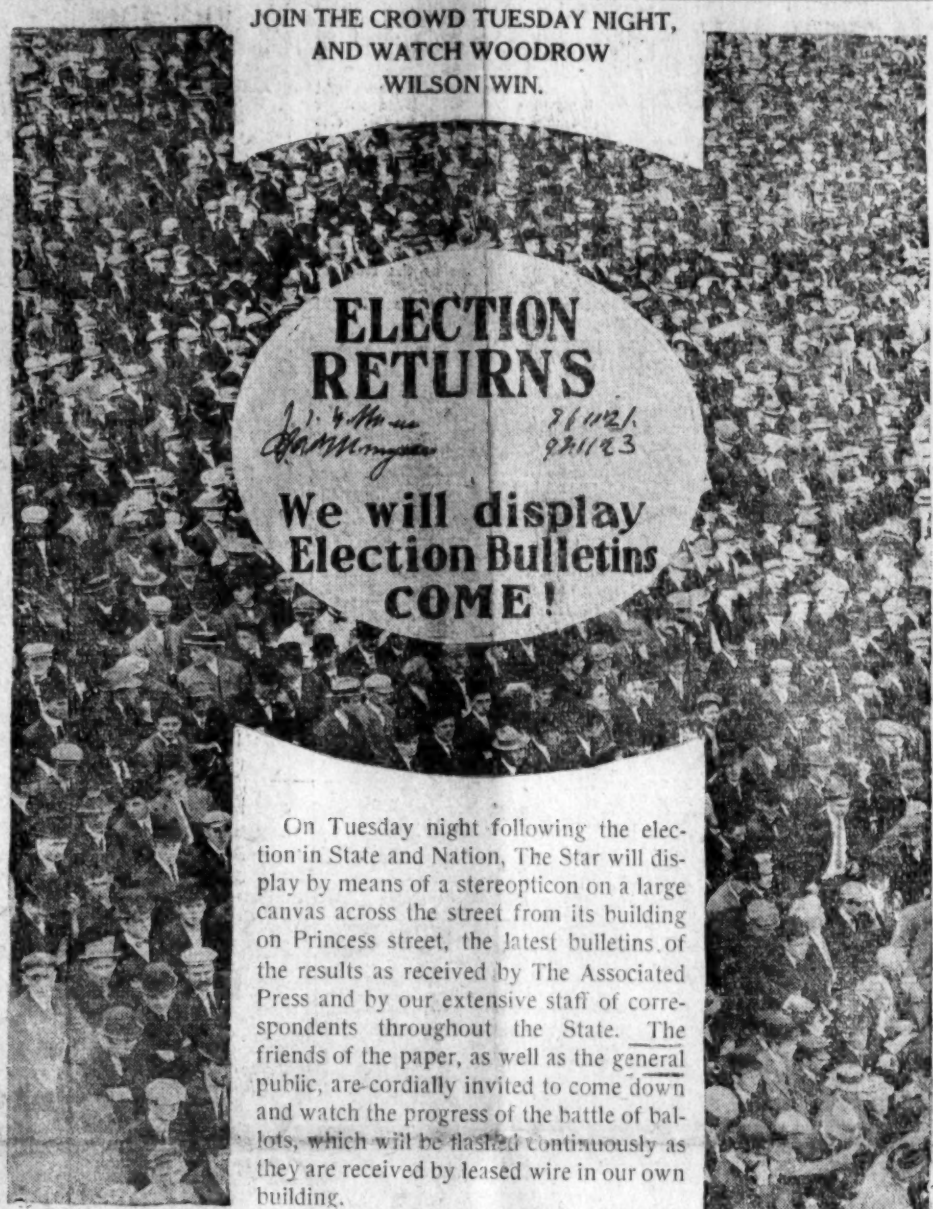

The Presidential candidates rested tonight with their active participation in the campaign over. Governor Wilson will vote at Princeton and receive his returns Tuesday night at his home there.

President Taft will vote in Cincinnati and remain there at the home of his brother, Charles P. Taft, until the results are known Wednesday morning. Col. Roosevelt left Oyster Bay early and is expected to arrive tonight. Each of the candidates will have a special telegraph wire for the receipt of the election returns.

As Headquarters See It. New York, Nov. 2.—Activities that have reached into all corners of the Nation came to a head here today at the National headquarters of the three leading political parties. So far as the chairman of the Democratic, Republican and Progressive parties are concerned the campaign ended tonight. There remain to be carried out tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday, the details of the campaign, the details of the election, the details of the counting of the votes, the details of the inauguration.

Complete Victory—McCombs. At Democratic National headquarters the claim of complete victory in the general elections was made with confidence. Democratic Chairman William F. McCombs declared that Governor Wilson not only would carry a great majority of the States, but that his success in strong Republican States would be surprising. Here briefly stated, are the views of the respective political leaders, upon the outcome of Tuesday's battle of ballots. William F. McCombs, Democratic National chairman: "On the eve of an election which closes what has been in many ways the most remarkable campaign in a score of years, I am confident of a sweeping victory for the Democratic ticket. I do not concede a single State in the Union to the other parties. We will carry the strongest Republican States. We will (Continued on Page Eight.)

CALM FOLLOWS GREAT BATTLE SHERMAN IS LAID TO REST SIX LOST ON SCHR. MAXWELL

After Four Days' Decisive Fighting Turks and Balkan Allies Rest on Their Arms—Turkish Army is Surrounded.

London, Nov. 2.—After the four days' decisive battle of the war, there is calm for a few hours and no news comes from the field of the recent fighting. Constantinople officials still refuse to permit messages dealing with the Turkish defeat to be sent out of the capital. How far the Ottoman army will be able to pull itself together, and whether it will make a stand in the forts outside of Constantinople, are questions unanswered.

The Serbian advance toward Saloniki continues. The Greeks claim to be pushing steadily forward, but Turkish messages insist that the Greek army has met with a repulse; that the crown prince ran away and that the Greek position is precarious.

Adrianople and Saloniki are now surrounded by the enemies. The Turkish army in Macedonia is cut off from all sides. Serbians hold all of Old Serbia and are administering the government from the ancient capital, Uspuk. Reports of massacres by the retreating Turks, with barbarous details, are piling up.

Diplomacy has done nothing in the direction of stopping or limiting the war. The powers now await the expected final which will force the Turk to his knees. The allies proclaim their determination to hold all they conquer. European sentiment—certainly English sentiment—appears to endorse their ambitions, if Austrian interests can be arranged.

All the soldiers of the British destroyer and submarine squadrons, on leave, have suddenly been ordered to return. The action of the British admiralty has caused a stir, but it may have no relation to the war.

WILSON DAY IN RALEIGH

Winston and Bryant Speak—Daniels Next Postmaster General (Special Star Telegram.) Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 2.—Hon. Francis D. Winston and Hon. Victor S. Bryant addressed 1,500 people tonight in the Auditorium in connection with the observance of Woodrow Wilson Day, and stirred great enthusiasm.

Mr. Winston read a telegram from National Democratic headquarters, giving the New York Herald's forecast of a sweeping Democratic victory in the election that will be published Sunday morning and said "this telegram, my fellow citizens, is signed by the next Postmaster General of the United States, the Hon. Josephus Daniels."

Simple But Impressive Services Mark Last Rites Over the Late Vice President—Many Dignitaries Present

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 2.—With simple but impressive services the body of Vice President James S. Sherman was laid away this afternoon in a crypt within a beautiful mausoleum in Forest Hill cemetery. Under a canvas covering that served as a shield against a chill November wind, were gathered the Sherman family, President Taft, members of his cabinet, justices of the United States Supreme Court, Senators and members of the House of Representatives and a few intimate friends and business associates of the Vice President, while without a throng which had assembled to pay a final tribute, stood reverently until the strains of "Asleep in Jesus" by the Hayden Male Chorus, which marked the conclusion of the services, had died away.

President Taft listened with bowed head and tear-dimmed eyes as Dr. W. Stryker, president of Hamilton College, read the brief committal service and the Rev. Louis H. Holden, pastor of Christ Church, of which Mr. Sherman was a member, offered prayer.

A mixed quartette sang, "Good Night," and when the election by the male chorus had been concluded, the President gazed a moment at the flower-covered casket of his friend and slowly made his way to a waiting automobile, accompanied by former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, Attorney General Wickersham and Major Rhodes, his military aide. Earlier in the afternoon there had been private services at the Sherman home and public obsequies at the First Presbyterian Church, both of which were attended by the President. The special bearing the nation's chief executive and party arrived in Utica at 1:30 o'clock and the President at once went to the late Vice President's home to offer his sympathy in person to Mrs. Sherman and others of the bereaved family. He remained for the services there which were conducted by Dr. Holden and then went to the church, where the funeral services were held.

Governor Dix was unable to be present, but sent Lieutenant Commander Eckford C. Deay, his military secretary as his representative. The casket covered with violets and lilies of the valley, was borne into the church at 2:30 o'clock and following it came Mrs. Sherman in heavy mourning, leaning on the arm of her son, Richard. She was accompanied by other members of the Sherman family. All were given seats close to the casket.

The entire audience rose in silence as the pallbearers made their way to Warren's, Front and Market. (Continued on Page Two.) (Advertisement.)

Battleship and Revenue Cutter Are Racing to Hatteras in Effort to Save Lone Survivor Clinging to the Rigging.

New Inlet Life Saving Station, N. C., Nov. 2.—A lone survivor of the crew of the New York schooner John Maxwell, driven on the treacherous Hatteras shoals during the night while bound from Norfolk to Savannah and broken in two by a raging sea, clung tenaciously in the rigging of the wreck when darkness fell tonight, while life savers from this and nearby stations watched helplessly for an opportunity to rescue him. A United States battleship from the Southern drill grounds and a revenue cutter tonight are steaming full speed to reach the spot in an attempt to save him.

Six lives already have been lost in the wreck, five of the men having disappeared in the huge waves before dawn today. The sixth sailor hung onto the rigging until late this afternoon, when benumbed by cold and exhausted by the lashing of the waves, he was forced to release his hold and was swept to death in the sea. The lone survivor, through glasses, appeared to be an aged man. An all day battle was waged by the life savers, but the tremendous sea and 40-mile gale made it impossible for them to launch their boats. Capt. Etheridge, of this station, aided by Capt. Westcott, of the Pea Island, and Capt. Midgett, of the Chincoteague stations, with their men endeavored to get to the wreck and bring the two seamen ashore.

Repeatedly during the day the life savers shot lines over the Maxwell, but the men in the rigging apparently were too numbed by cold, or too exhausted to attach it to the rigging. Failure to get the line fastened so the breeches buoy might be sent out prevented a rescue in this way.

The coast guardians again and again tried to put their life boats to sea, but each time were repulsed by the relentless waves.

Word was sent to Norfolk, where the navy yard was flashed the plight of the vessel and men to the Atlantic fleet on the Southern Drill Grounds. News came back here that one of the ships would steam as near the shoals as possible and attempt to rescue the men from the sea.

The coastwise telegraph also brought word that the Revenue Cutter Service would send a vessel.

It was not until afternoon that the identity of the vessel became known. A piece of wreckage bearing the name was washed ashore. Under the force of the terrific waves the craft broke in two and is fast going to pieces. She will be a total wreck with her cargo of coal.

DEMOCRATS WILL SWEEP THE UNION

Herald's Canvass Indicates a Big Majority for Wilson and Marshall.

CONTROL HOUSE AND SENATE

In the Division of the Electoral Vote Wilson Gets 360, Taft 27, Roosevelt Seven—137 Are Classed As Doubtful

(Democratic National Committee.) New York, Nov. 2.—Wilson and Marshall will have 200 majority in the electoral college and both the Senate and House will be Democratic on the fourth of March. Without making any gain, the Democrats will have 43 Senators out of a necessary 49 to control. Of the body of the Senatorial seats in doubt, the Democrats need to gain only six to control.

"Three States, Illinois, Idaho and Colorado," each elect two Senators. Both these from Colorado will be Democrats, with an even chance of securing both in Idaho, and an even better chance in Illinois. The latest news from Illinois indicates a Democratic victory all along the line.

The Democrats feel confident of electing Senators in Nebraska, Iowa, Delaware and South Dakota, Massachusetts, Oregon and Minnesota.

New York, Nov. 2.—The New York Herald prints Sunday the following:

The Herald's forecast published today indicates the election of Woodrow Wilson by the largest electoral vote ever received by a candidate.

The next House of Representatives will be Democratic by an overwhelming majority, and the indications are that the control of the United States Senate will pass to that party.

In the division of the electoral vote as indicated by the Herald's forecast, Gov. Wilson will receive 360; President Taft 27, Mr. Roosevelt 7, and 137 are placed in the doubtful column. There are 531 votes in the electoral college, and 266 are necessary for a choice. As a basis for this forecast, the Herald has had a personal poll of 319,321 voters, by far the largest number that has ever expressed a preference in a pre-election canvass. This poll has been supplemented by the observations and the conclusions of experienced political reporters who have gone into every county of every debatable State, and talked with men in every walk of life.

In the division of the electoral vote as a result of the canvass, the Herald has given to Governor Wilson, 126 from the Southern States, which are conceded to Governor Wilson. They are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Added to these are the votes of the following States, which the canvass indicates that Governor Wilson will carry: Arizona, 3; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 13; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 18; Minnesota, 12; Missouri, 18; Nebraska, 8; Nevada, 3; New Mexico, 3; New York, 45; Ohio, 24; Oklahoma, 10; Oregon, 8; Wisconsin, 13. This will make a total of 41 States for Governor Wilson, with an electoral vote of 360, or 94 more than necessary for a choice.

To President Taft has been given the following States, with their electoral votes: Idaho, 4; Maine, 6; New Hampshire, 4; Rhode Island, 5; Utah, 4; Vermont, 4.—Total 27.

To Mr. Roosevelt has been given the State of Washington, with seven electoral votes, where the women voters will undoubtedly decide the contest.

In the doubtful column has been placed the following States, with their electoral votes: California, 13; Colorado, 6; Illinois, 29; Michigan, 15; Montana, 4; New Jersey, 14; North Dakota, 5; Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 38; South Dakota, 5; Wyoming, 3.—Total 137.

In the larger of these States, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, California and New Jersey, the contest appears to be between Governor Wilson and Mr. Roosevelt.

New Jersey, the home State of the Democratic nominee, has not heretofore been placed in the doubtful column. Late reports indicate a drift towards Mr. Roosevelt and while it is not believed to be extensive enough to menace the chances of Governor Wilson, the State has been put in the doubtful column.

California, claimed by the Progressives, as a sure State for Mr. Roosevelt, is truly doubtful. The indications are that Governor Wilson will carry the northern part of the State and Mr. Roosevelt the southern section.

In all the doubtful States, there is a silent vote, larger than ever before. There have been rumors in the closing days of the campaign that this would swing to Mr. Roosevelt. The Herald has made every possible effort to determine if this vote was going one way, and is unable to find that it is.

In Illinois, Michigan and Pennsylvania the conditions vary in the different sections of the State. The re-

Wilson Indicates He Will Not Resign Perhaps Until Next March.

DOESN'T DOUBT THE VERDICT

Democratic Nominee Expresses Confidence in Outcome of the Election Tuesday—Appeals for State Ticket

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 2.—Governor Woodrow Wilson indicated in his speeches tonight on behalf of the Democratic Legislative ticket of New Jersey that even if he is elected President of the United States next Tuesday he will continue to act as Governor of New Jersey, perhaps until next March.

"I have not stopped being Governor yet," he said before an enthusiastic crowd here, "and it is my ambition to be associated with the Legislature of New Jersey, which meets next January, in doing some further things in settling the people of New Jersey free from private and special interests."

The Governor declared that in the midst of an era of reform New Jersey voters had obstructed his aims in their behalf by making both houses of the State Legislature Republican in 1912. He appealed for a Democratic Legislature to enable him to make the reforms which begin January 1st, to continue his programme of reform which he said had not yet been completed.

Mr. Wilson also urged a Democratic Legislature so as to add William Hughes to the list of Democrats in the Senate. The nominee stated that if it were a matter of personal choice with him as between the Presidency of the one hand and a Congress of opposite political complexion he would prefer not to be elected President.

"It would be desperately lonesome," he said, "without a Democratic House and Senate. I can think of nothing more heart-breaking to a man than to be in the position of knowing what ought to be done in the country and yet be powerless to do it."

The Governor motored from Long Branch to Freehold and Red Bank to make other speeches along similar lines.

Appeals for State Ticket. Red Bank, N. J., Nov. 2.—Governor Wilson in continuing here tonight his appeal for the Democratic Legislative ticket said:

"I want the people of New Jersey to consider this proposition: 'Do not vote to have a Democratic President merely because you are generous enough to believe in your own Governor and have State pride enough to desire to see a man from New Jersey President of the United States. Do not do that. That is not patriotism. The thing to do is to make up your minds whether you want the people of the United States to have an instrument in their hands, undivided, ready to be used through which you can effect the reforms for which this country has waited so long and can wait longer.'"

"If I am sent to Washington to deal with a Republican Senate, I would manage to make things just as disagreeable for that Senate as possible. But government does not consist in making yourself disagreeable. It consists in working in harmony with men who have the same convictions and the same sympathies at heart."

The Governor returned by automobile late tonight to his home in Princeton.

Wilson Issues Statement. New York, Nov. 2.—The following statement by Governor Wilson, Democratic candidate for the Presidency, was issued today through the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee:

"The issue is now clearly made up and goes to the people. For one, don't doubt the verdict. The voters must take one or another of three choices.

"First: Entrust the government to the regular Republican party again which always begins a campaign with promises of action and then always at the end draws back and warns against change, dreading to attempt anything at all for fear it should not satisfy those who control credit and whom it has so long permitted to act as trustees for the people in every matter of policy.

"Second: Place the guidance of their affairs in the hands of men who are searching about for some new way in which to perform old duties, all along plain and imperative, which can easily be performed without the invention of new methods—for example without shifting the whole energy and initiative of the law to the executive branch of the government.

"Third: Go forward without postponement or experiment or confusion to effect the reforms which the whole country waits for and which all parties profess to believe necessary through the instrumentality of a great established and undivided party, clear and explicit as to its purposes, willing to effect them by the ordinary process of legislation, willing to be guided by the common counsel of the nation as a whole, the plain people with the rest, regardless of every interest, the little as well as the big, because connected with every interest by sympathy and (Continued on Page Eight.)

KITCHIN FOR SENATOR

Who Are You For, Freemen of North Carolina?

Kitchin, or the "Bosses?"

Kitchin, or "the Special Interests?"

Kitchin, or the Political Machine?

The Trusts and Their Tools Have Drawn the Line. Which Side are You On?

THE DEADLY PARALLEL

WHAT VANCE SAID OF SIMMONS IN THE OLD DAYS.

Vance said in The Asheville Citizen, February 8, 1901:

"I resent not only Simmons' interfering with my rights as a Senator, but the insulting and defiant tone assumed by him. I shall oppose his confirmation on personal as well as political grounds, grounds connected with his unfitness to hold the position for which he has been appointed."

Charles Vance, son of Senator Vance, said in a published statement, October 22, 1900: "A short time before my father's death, he stated that in his opinion Simmons was not fit for office or worthy of the confidence of the people of North Carolina. I know that my father regarded Simmons as an unscrupulous politician, and stated to me that if he ever gained control of the politics of North Carolina, it would be conducted as a machine, regardless of the rights and privileges of the people."

DON'T BE TRICKED.

Although North Carolina is one of nineteen States that border on the ocean and has more miles of coast line than any other, except one, she has, since Simmons has been in the Senate, secured only $14.20 out of every $1,000 appropriated for rivers, harbors and inland waterways. In the forty years following the Civil War, with all the adverse influence of the bitterness resulting from that struggle, we averaged $13 out of every $1,000 appropriated for such purposes.

Out of almost $300,000,000 appropriated for rivers, harbors and inland waterways since 1902, North Carolina has secured only $4,000,000, and while this has been coming in, $4,000,000 per year has been going out for Federal pensions, and $7,000,000 for tobacco tax, and he has done nothing to stop the drain.

Also $10,000,000 has been going out by reason of freight discriminations and he twice voted for a continuation of the injustice although he was elected in 1906 upon a platform that declared it should be stopped.

$21,000,000 draining out while we are obtaining $400,000, and they say return Simmons to the Senate for what he has done.

WHAT WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN SAYS OF SIMMONS TODAY:

(Bryan's Commoner, Oct. 11, 1912.)

Senator Simmons asks the people of North Carolina for re-election. He ought to be defeated. North Carolina is in reality a progressive State. It is entitled to representation in the United States Senate of a man whose heart is known to be in sympathy with the hearts of the people. Mr. Simmons is not such a man. He would do very well as a representative of the stand-pat Republican party. He will not do as a representative of the Democratic party, if that party is to be true to its principles.

(Bryan's Commoner, Aug. 30, 1912.)

In North Carolina, where Senator Simmons is a candidate for re-election, A PRINCIPLE IS INVOLVED. HE IS NOT A PROGRESSIVE, and it is a mystery to the outside world WHY a State like North Carolina has tolerated him so long.

THE OTHER LOUDEST SIMMONS BOOSTERS ARE THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, A "PROTECTION" PAPER; THE GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS, FOUNDED BY REPUBLICAN MONEY AND EDITED BY A REPUBLICAN OF LONG STANDING, THE LUMBER TRUST, THE "SPECIAL INTERESTS," TAFT DEMOCRATS AND "MACHINE POLITICIANS."

KITCHIN APPEALS ALONE AND DIRECTLY TO THE PEOPLE. HIS RECORD IN CONGRESS WAS A BIG AND SUCCESSFUL ONE. UNDER HIM AS GOVERNOR THE STATE HAS PROSPERED AND PEACE HAS PREVAILED. HE MADE ENEMIES, FIGHTING THE "SPECIAL INTERESTS," INCLUDING THE FIRE INSURANCE TRUST, AND THEY ARE NOW FIGHTING HIM!

HE IS NOT AFRAID OF DEBATE, AND THE PEOPLE KNOW SIMMONS WOULD NOT MEET HIM.

AS SENATOR, HE WOULD HELP HIS STATE, AND AT THE SAME TIME WOULD NOT SWAP A VOTE THAT WOULD RAISE THE COST OF LIVING, AND, THEREFORE, TAKE AWAY MILLIONS FROM THE PEOPLE BY THE EMPTY MARKET BASKET ROUTE. AMONG OTHER THINGS, HE WOULD NOT VOTE A HIGH TARIFF ON COAL, AS DID SENATOR SIMMONS, AND THE PRICE OF COAL HAS GONE UP. NORTH CAROLINA PRODUCES NO COAL.

SPEAKING OF WHITE SUPREMACY.

During the dark days of 1898, Kitchin was found on the stump, not fighting the enemy at long range, but Bidding Defiance to Their Very Teeth.

HE WROTE EVERY PLANK IN THE "WHITE SUPREMACY" PLATFORM, SAVE ONE; EX-GOVERNOR JARVIS WROTE THAT ONE (JARVIS IS NOT FOR SIMMONS).

IN CONGRESS KITCHIN MADE THE MOST BRILLIANT SPEECH OF ALL IN DEFENSE OF THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE, AND LED THE SUCCESSFUL FIGHT AGAINST THE REPUBLICAN MOVE TO CUT DOWN THE SOUTH'S REPRESENTATION.

KITCHIN WOULD NOT BELONG TO THE "INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT." KITCHIN WOULD NOT BE A LORIMER DEMOCRAT.

AND THE REPUBLICANS CLAMOR FOR SIMMONS.

"The Republicans cannot elect the United States Senator, but if Simmons is elected it will be a triumph for Republican policies, and these policies will be safe with such men as Simmons in the Senate.—Elkin Times (Republican).

Governor Kitchin is making his fight against Senator Simmons upon his record favoring protection, and as the fight is to be settled by the Democrats alone, we cannot predict the result, but if all the voters of the State could participate in the election, including the Republicans, the record of Senator Simmons for protection would be endorsed by a large majority.—The Wilkes Patriot (Republican).

If the Senator must be a Democrat, we prefer Senator Simmons to Governor Kitchin.—The Albemarle Chronicle (Republican).

P. S.—AS A NATIONAL FIGURE, SENATOR SIMMONS HAS BEEN UNABLE TO PRESENT ANY EVIDENCE THAT HE IS OF CONSEQUENCE TO THE PEOPLE. ASIDE FROM "HIS SPECIAL WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE," HE HAS PRODUCED NOTHING BUT AN ARTICLE FROM THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE. HE HAS SHOUTED OVER THIS AND THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE IS PUBLISHED IN BOSTON BY A HIGH PROTECTIONIST AND IN THE SAME ISSUE THAT IT PRAISED SIMMONS IT PAID HIGH TRIBUTE TO SIMMONS' FRIEND, WILLIAM LORIMER. QUERY: IF SIMMONS HAS LOOKED OUT FOR NORTH CAROLINA IN PREFERENCE TO THE NEW ENGLAND STATES, WHY DOES THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE, OF BOSTON, PRAISE SIMMONS?

Win with Wilson. Don't tinker with Taft. But the Bull Moose.

Because a man challenges you it is no sign that he is in your class.

A man can always tell if to better advantage if his wife is not listening.

A vote for Woodrow Wilson and Democracy is an investment for the family.

Be a Wilson shouter when the election returns are coming in Tuesday night.

Men may win once by unscrupulous methods, but it is not at all likely that they can win a second time by the same tactics.

No voter who wants to do the right thing by himself and his family can do anything but vote the Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

It is strange that in all the alleged prosperity of this country nine-tenths of the people have to stand in the line at the grocery and the butcher.

A Kansas man has named his trip-lets Initiative, Referendum and Recall. Mother, no doubt, will lay great store by Recall in the matter of making father toe the mark.

The young man who is to cast his first vote ought to vote right on Tuesday so he can get help to elect President Woodrow Wilson. A man ought to vote the ticket which the majority of loyal North Carolinians will vote.

Col. Roosevelt sued a Michigan editor for slipping up in saying in effect that the colonel is not addicted to prohibition. However, would the colonel mind our saying that if he gets more votes than Taft he will be intoxicated with delight?

In the States where woman suffrage prevails, 630,000 women are entitled to vote in Tuesday's election. The ones who vote the straight Democratic ticket are those who never have any difficulty about being able to tell when their hat is on straight.

President Taft declares that if we do away with protection we will have hard times in this country. Never touched as! Most of us will vote against protection because it is responsible for the hard times that are already severely felt by nine men out of every ten.

It is announced that China still refuses to take the six-power loan of $350,000,000 on the terms demanded. If China wants to secure a loan and be independent of the European powers, she should get on the good side of the American coal men before the winter is over.

Big Business is more interested in the special privilege parties than are the people. That is the reason that Big Business subscribed nearly three-fourths of the Roosevelt slush funds in 1904, and that individuals interested in trusts have been the most liberal donors to the funds of Taft and Roosevelt in this campaign. The people had a very mild interest in Roosevelt in 1904 when all classes, rich and poor, took less than 30 per cent. of stock in the financing of his campaign.

What's the use of scratching the Democratic ticket? Scratchers do not get anything by it and may do harm to candidates on the ticket and the Democracy at large. A few Democrats once scratched the party's candidate for the Legislature, and a negro Republican was elected by a majority of only one. Those Democrats did not vote for the negro, but they made his election sure by not voting against him. To scratch a candidate means to give his opponent a better chance. Why is a scratcher?

THE FAMILY PANIC.

Taft, the tariff voter, need not howl "panic" at the people. They have a deaf ear turned to his distressful and impotent ululation. The people want to get rid of the already prevalent panic which has been brought to every family by high prices. The man who can eat more in a day than he can pay for with his day's earnings has a panic of his own, and if he consults his distressed wife she will tell him to let Taft howl and let the Bull Moose go to grass. When nine-tenths of the people in this country sit down to the table they have a panic right before them. In order to get rid of the family panic they are perfectly willing for Taft to get a dose of it himself. However, he only imagines there is going to be a panic because defeat is staring him in the face. It is not the ghost of a panic which he sees but it is the stalking horse of Democratic victory if Wilson is elected. Well, if we can only get Wilson in the White House we will be willing to see the special interest President have fits till they become chronic. By the way, the President's panic hysteria has its humorous side. In his probable knowledge of the law and his evident lack of economics and the causes of panics, he has argued himself into the position of being responsible for the Roosevelt panic. No doubt the Bull Moose is glad to see him put his foot in it and assume that responsibility.

In order to scare people into believing that a panic will bob up if the Democrats win in this election, the illogical President has blamed the Cleveland tariff for a panic which occurred the year before under the Harrison tariff. The so-called Cleveland panic occurred in 1893 and the Cleveland tariff was not adopted till 1904, a year following the panic. The panic occurred while the Harrison protective tariff was still in full force and effect and continued in effect for nearly two years afterward.

The President, finding himself in a hole for blaming the Democrats with the panic which occurred a year before the Democratic tariff was adopted, fell back upon the argument that it was fear of a Democratic tariff which unsettled confidence and brought on the panic. If fear of a panic is responsible for bringing on a panic, he should state what caused the fright that brought on the Roosevelt panic which lasted over two years of Taft's term. Does he blame it on the Roosevelt tariff under which it occurred, or was it because of the Taft tariff adopted a year afterwards?

The President finds himself face to face with the logical fact that if the Cleveland tariff brought on a panic which occurred before it was adopted, the Roosevelt panic was brought on by the tariff adopted after it occurred. That would make the Taft administration responsible for a panic which occurred under the Roosevelt tariff. He cannot get around that.

However, he says it is fear of harkback by the Democrats that is likely to bring on a panic. He declares that the 1893 panic was the result of fear of the incoming Cleveland administration. Then during Roosevelt's administration it must have been fear of Taft's incoming administration which unsettled things and caused a panic. If political administrations cause panics, either Roosevelt or Taft's administration was responsible for the panic of 1907. That panic began a year before Taft was inaugurated, but its most serious effect was felt during the first year of Taft's administration. If a panic began a year before Cleveland's administration can be blamed on Cleveland, why is it that a panic which began a year before Taft's administration cannot be blamed on Taft?

Nevertheless, the President probably knows by this time that the panic of 1893 was caused by a lack of confidence in Republican financial legislation—silver certificate currency under the Sherman act. Grover Cleveland being wiser than his entire party, secured its repeal and put an end to the panic. Fear of the Democratic tariff under his administration was not justified, for it was the highest tariff ever known up to that time. It was so high and un-Democratic that President Cleveland denounced it and refused to sign it. According to the Taft argument the Cleveland tariff should have produced prosperity instead of a panic, for it was a higher tariff than was that during Harrison's preceding administration. How could it be possible that a Democratic tariff more protective than previous Republican protective tariffs could bring on a panic? The fact is, United States history gives the cause of that panic, and Taft is taking a position which does not agree with history when he attempts to settle the blame on a Democratic administration.

It is absolutely necessary for the farmer to get good prices for his products, because of his problem in the high cost of production. The middleman sells high because his expenses are great. Everybody's expenses are pressing, and it is not because one commodity is high but because everything is high. Wipe out the extortion practiced by the protected interests if you want relief. Vote for Wilson.

HAPPENINGS IN LUMBERTON

Court Postponed—Yadkin River Power About Ready—Personal and General News Items in Lumberton—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 2.—On account of the election Tuesday, convening of the two-weeks' term of Superior Court has been deferred until Thursday morning, when it will open on time, Judge Lyon presiding, and Solicitor Sinclair, representing the State. There are about 135 cases on the docket, but it is a remarkable fact that there are no capital cases to be tried. There would be a murder case but the defendant has never been arrested. At the December term of court which will be a civil term, Judge Bragg will preside, the exchange of circuits having been made this time of account of the election.

It did look a few days ago if Lumberton would have a 10-ton ice plant in operation by next Spring, but now it seems that the proposition is about to freeze out. We are told that a gentleman purchased the site upon which to erect the plant, had almost closed the deal for the machinery, and expected to be at work placing material in a few days. He wanted to operate the plant by electricity, but wanted to get the power from the Yadkin River Power Company instead of the town. The town authorities say they can and will furnish the power if the gentleman desires, but that the power company has made no application to come in town and that before permission is given for it to enter the proper application must be made in due form. While the town says it has made no price on the power, the gentleman interested says he can't pay the price charged. A representative of the Yadkin River Power Company was interviewed in regard to the matter and he said he had heard nothing of the proposition. It is to be hoped that the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted and the plant will be erected. Lumberton has reached the point where a factory of that capacity should pay, especially when the shipping facilities are considered but unless arrangements to use electric power can be made, it seems there'll be nothing doing as the promoter says he'll not install a steam plant.

Arrangements are being made to take election returns in the Court house Tuesday night. Manager Hamilton will run a wire into the building and will also probably keep the main office open. He will be assisted by two or three expert telegraphers and as fast as the wires flash the news they will be given out to our people. Lumberton now has a white on the job of keeping Elm street clean in the paved district, and several citizens have been heard to remark that they have not before now seen the street kept in such a cleanly condition. Willie Phillips is on the job and he is filling the bill faultlessly.

Thursday night, November 7th, Lumberton theatregoers are going to have an opportunity of seeing "Mutt and Jeff," a musical comedy with one of the greatest reputations ever won by any company playing the South. There are about 30 people in the company, a majority of them being girls. Two agents of the show were here Thursday and yesterday advertising the show with the greatest line of paper that has ever been posted here. The company carries a canon of scenery, much of which will be used here, though the stage is too small for all of it to be used. Seats will go on sale at McMillan's Monday morning at 3 o'clock.

One morning this week we noticed two gentlemen in the hotel lobby looking across the street at the department store of Messrs. H. D. Caldwell & Son, and they agreed that it was the largest and most up-to-date department store in the State. They said a person could find anything there from a cradle to the grave, and if anything else was needed it was there. THIRTY DAYS ON THE FARM

This the Sentence Imposed by Recorder on Mattie Allen, Denizen of the Underworld—Takes an Appeal.

Mattie Allen, a notorious denizen of the underworld, was sentenced in the Recorder's court yesterday morning to 30 days on the county farm in an old case against her for vagrancy. The prosecuting attorney did not enter a prayer for judgment in another similar case in which she had been found guilty. Judgment in the case was pronounced after argument of counsel both for the defense and prosecution. The defendant was represented by A. G. Ricard, L. Clayton Grant, Woodson Kellum and W. P. Gafford, Esq., while Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Paschall represented the prosecution. Counsel for the defense gave notice of appeal and bond was fixed at $200, which was given. Her attorneys requested the Recorder to allow her to go on her own recognizance and stated that if she left the community the end in view would be accomplished anyway. The Recorder declined to grant the request, remarking that the defendant had not made any promises as to her future conduct and that so far as the court knew it was her purpose to continue to live the life she is now living. The chances are that had the defendant agreed to leave the city or to give up her present way of living, the Recorder would have given her the opportunity, as he did in some similar cases last week.

Several other cases against women of the underworld were disposed of. A nol pros with leave was taken in the case against Gypsy Marion, as it was said that she has left the city. A nol pros was taken in several other cases and a few were continued indefinitely. It is stated that the Recorder of the city in which formerly about 100 women of questionable character lived, there are now not more than five or six and that these are complying with the law.

Peter Slater, colored, drew the long sentence. He was given a term of six months on the county roads for assault with deadly weapon on Horace Jackson, a negro youth, whom he is alleged to have struck in the head with a scuffling at the Wynwood box factory Friday morning. Owen Hall was taxed $5 and costs for riding a bicycle without a light. W. N. Core was taxed the costs for disorderly conduct. Charley Payne, a ten-year-old colored youth, charged with violating the driving ordinance, was discharged on account of his age. Walter Williams and Carrie Meares, colored, were each taxed the costs for assault with deadly weapon on another. O. D. Hall was taxed the costs for running an automobile without a number.

W. P. Gafford, Esq., called attention to the fact that when W. L. Taylor, a white man, was convicted a few weeks ago of collecting money for a firm for which he formerly worked and appropriating it to his own use, he was told that he must not continue to collect for the company or in any way interfere with its business. Mr. Gafford said that he had been informed that Taylor was still collecting for the company by telling people not to pay accounts, etc., and asked that he be served a rule to show cause why he should not be attached for contempt of court. The Recorder said that he would have the rule served and the hearing will take place Wednesday. Attention of the Recorder was called to a letter that had been received from the management of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training School at Concord, stating that there is no room in the institution to accommodate Frank Miller, a colored youth, in which youth sentenced there for two years about a week ago. It was suggested to the Recorder that arrangements could be made through a prominent local citizen to have the boy entered in a military school. The Recorder said that he thought it did not lay right to send the boy to an institution other than the one at Concord, but would take up the matter again Monday.

A case against Daisy Green, colored, charged with the larceny of some dresses belonging to another negro woman, was continued until Monday.

MRS. CARRIE C. DEWAR

Passed Away Yesterday Morning at Catherine Kennedy Home

Mrs. Carrie C. Dewar passed away yesterday morning about 5 o'clock at the Catherine Kennedy Home in this city. She had been in feeble health for many years and her death was not unexpected. She was born January 7th, 1840, and was in the 73rd year of her age. Mrs. Dewar was a twin sister of the late Dr. Jos. C. Shepard, who for a number of years was a prominent physician of Wilmington and who died about 10 years ago. About 22 years ago she was happily married to Mr. A. B. Dewar. They were perfectly devoted to each other, sharing each other's joys and sorrows until their happy union was broken about five weeks ago, when on Sept. 24th, 1912, Mr. Dewar died peacefully at Scott's Hill, N. C.

Mrs. Dewar is survived by a large circle of friends and relatives, among whom are Mrs. Lottie Jones, her sister; Mrs. B. O. Stone and Mrs. Ida Jones, nieces; Messrs. A. H. Shepard and J. C. Shepard, nephews, all of Wilmington. Mrs. Dewar was a faithful member of the Baptist church and had been for many years.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home where she died, the services being conducted by Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. E. C. Self, pastor of Trinity M. E. church. The remains were taken on the Newbern train to Woodside, where they will be laid to rest by the side of her late husband. The bereaved have the heartfelt sympathy of their friends and relatives.

Rev. O. T. Mattox Goes to Florida. Rev. O. T. Mattox, who has been pastor of the Fourth Street Advent Christian church for the past year or two, but tendered his resignation a few weeks ago, left yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Mattox, for Florida, where they will visit before Mr. Mattox takes up his new work. They made many friends while in Wilmington, who regret that they are to make their home elsewhere.

TALK OF AD CLUB

Organization May Be Formed in Wilmington in Short Time

A movement has been started to form an Ad Club in Wilmington. Similar organizations have been formed in many cities of the country in recent years. The object of an Ad Club is to advertise in every way possible the city or town in which it has been formed. They are a great benefit to any city or town. The matter of forming such an organization here has been discussed by Mr. Howard B. Branch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Meares Harris and others. The idea is to first secure the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce and then proceed to organize. It is stated that there are to be no salaried officers.

Another Fight at Restaurant.

The third or fourth fight of the week to occur in the restaurant for colored people conducted by John Andrews, a Greek, on Second street, between Market and Princess, took place yesterday afternoon, when John Silveo, a Greek, and Cutler Swann, colored, came to blows. They fought a while inside the place and then got out in the street. They were arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. H. Davis and carried before Justice Harris, who found them guilty and fined them $25 each and costs. A few days ago one negro shot another in the hand in the place, but it was claimed that it was an accident.

REMOVE TO GATES COUNTY OVER TEN THOUSAND

FOR WILSON FUNDS

Dr. C. D. Bell and Family Will Return to Their Former Home Near Virginia Line—Have Many Friends Here.

Many friends of Dr. C. D. Bell, who has been practicing medicine in this city for the past 19 years, and his excellent family will regret to learn that they have decided to remove to Gatesville, Gates county, near the Virginia line, and that they will leave about November 12th for their new home. They will live on a large farm belonging to Mrs. Bell about two and a half miles from Gatesville and Dr. Bell expects to engage in agricultural pursuits as well as to continue the practice of medicine.

The plantation to which Dr. Bell and family will remove has been in Mrs. Bell's family for the past 40 years and considered one of the most desirable places in the county. The late Judge M. L. Eure, Mrs. Bell's father, who passed away a few weeks ago, removed from Gates county to Norfolk, Va., about 30 years ago and was engaged in the cotton commission business. Notwithstanding his large business interests in Norfolk, Judge Eure found time to look after his holdings in Gates county. Judge Eure held the first court ever to convene in Pender county many years ago. He was not on the bench a great while before he resigned and went to Norfolk to go into business, in which he was signally successful.

Dr. Bell was born near Rock Point, what is now part of Pender county, but was then a part of New Hanover. Soon after receiving his license to practice medicine he opened an office in Gatesville, where he practiced for nine years before removing to Wilmington. He has been here 19 years and has enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. For the past 12 years he has been coroner of the county, which office he filled with marked ability. He was re-nominated in the recent primary and will be re-elected for another term in the election Tuesday. However, he will resign before his new term becomes effective and the vacancy will have to be filled by the County Commissioners.

Hundreds of friends throughout the city will regret to learn of the decision of Dr. Bell and his family to return to their former home. Mrs. Bell has been very prominent in social and club circles and will be greatly missed, especially in the Daughters of the Confederacy, having been recording secretary of Cape Fear Chapter for the past year or two. The best wishes of their many friends will follow them and all will sincerely hope that Dr. and Mrs. Bell will return often on visits.

BOYS' BRIGADE NOTES

Regular Monthly Meeting Will Be Held Tomorrow Night—Lecture

Tomorrow night the Senior membership of the Boys' Brigade will hold the regular monthly meeting. President Hill will preside. Col. Walker Taylor will be present as is his custom. Every member is requested to be present without fail as this meeting promises to be of considerable interest. Rev. J. M. Wells will conduct the regular Monday night Bible class which is proving so interesting and instructive. Following out the plan of conducting a popular educational lecture course by prominent men of the city the committee in charge announces that tomorrow night Mr. D. G. Vafadi, Greek Consul, will speak on the subject of the present Turkish war. In this address Mr. Vafadi will speak, not from the standpoint of a partisan, but rather as a spectator of a great drama which this war assumes in the history of countries. He will show by the use of maps the geographical position of the various countries involved in this great struggle for independence, enumerate the people it includes, present a statement of the causes which led up to the war, show some of the results to those involved in the struggle and present other important facts included in this great Eastern disturbance. Doubtless there will be many people in the city who will desire to hear this subject presented by Mr. Vafadi so that it has been decided to invite anybody who is interested, to attend. The address will begin at 8:30 and continue for about thirty minutes.

Remembered by Firemen

Mr. Henry Ruggles, representative of the American-LaFrance Fire Engine Co., who was here to instruct members of the fire department in the operation of two motor-driven combination hose and chemical wagons purchased from his company, left Friday for his home in Elmira, N. Y. Mr. Ruggles took more than the usual interest in explaining the apparatus to the firemen and giving them instructions in the operation of the machines. The firemen became very much attached to him, so much, in fact, that just before he left Friday evening they called him in at headquarters and presented him with a pair of gold cuff buttons, stick pin and the clasp with his initials engraved on them, as an appreciation of his efforts and of their friendship for him. Mr. Ruggles was taken completely by surprise. He thanked the firemen most heartily for their kind remembrance and assured them that his stay in Wilmington had been a most pleasant one.

Arranging for Big Rally

Circulars are being sent out by local Pythian lodges to their members and to neighboring lodges calling attention to the big Pythian rally to be held in this city on the night of November 21st. The attendance on this occasion is expected to be large. A number of lodges in this section are expected to be in attendance. Col. Walker Taylor, Grand Chancellor, has been advised that the rally in Charlotte on the night of November 18th will be largely attended. The Gastonia lodge expects to take 50 members to the meeting.

the crowd with him and that both his address and the message of Governor Wilson were received with the greatest enthusiasm of the evening.

With the closing of the meeting Mr. Godwin announced Wilmington's further distinction in being the home of the only author of a song dedicated to a President and upon motion of Mr. Evans, Mrs. E. May Glenn Toon, who was in the audience, came forward and read with splendid effect, "Greetings to Our President." Both she and the song were received with much enthusiasm and this proved one of the most pleasing incidents of the meeting.

One of the most pleasing incidents of the meeting was the reading of a telegram to Mr. Hugh MacRae, from Assistant Secretary Walker W. Vick, of the National Committee, in reply to one of Mr. MacRae's stating that the full amount of $10,000 had been raised. The telegram follows:

"New York, Nov. 2nd, 1912.
"Hon. Hugh MacRae, Treasurer, Wilmington, N. C."

"The outcome of the campaign in Wilmington is one of the most gratifying incidents of the triumphant fight which has been waged to insure the overwhelming election of Woodrow Wilson on Tuesday, and give to the people of the United States an administration which will reflect in its every phase the return of the rule of the people to this great Nation and forever remove Republican government beneficial only to special interests and cancerous to every principle for which Democracy has so valiantly fought for 16 years. Chairman McCombs directs me to express his personal appreciation to you and all of those who have contributed to the magnificent showing of Wilmington which is unparalleled for cities of its size. Woodrow Wilson will exemplify in every way the confidence of the American people and the next four years will mark a period of rejuvenation and prosperity never before known in the history of the United States. With grateful appreciation and personal good wishes to all who have aided, helped, and with victory assured, most faithfully yours,
"WALKER W. VICK."

The Financial Campaign.

It will be impossible this morning to publish in full all the contributions made yesterday to the Wilson Fund, but it is sufficient to say that the full amount of $10,000 was raised and forwarded by Mr. MacRae last night. This was made possible by a number of gentlemen who became guarantors for the fund and who stated that they would give the amounts opposite their names, provided it was necessary for Wilmington to make good on its proposition to raise $10,000 and they contributed as follows: Amounts from $10 to $25 each, M. S. Willard, H. M. Chase, J. E. Roache, Jos. H. Watters, L. B. Sasser, E. T. Taylor, Brown Brothers, W. H. McEachern, L. Hanson, R. L. Sprunt, For $25 each, John Hall, D. C. Love, Dr. M. M. Caldwell, A. M. Hall, Davis & Davis, Burke H. Bridges, J. W. Little, Gieschen Brothers, Nelson, MacRae, For $50 each, William Gilchrist, W. A. McGirt, For $100 each, P. Pearsall, B. O. Stone, W. H. Sprunt, For seven hundred and fifty each, James Sprunt and Hugh MacRae. Also the following secured through the efforts of Mr. J. Laurence Sprunt, chairman of the leading team in the canvass: C. W. Polvogt, $20; Mrs. James Sprunt, $25; J. L. Sprunt, $25; Platt & Hart, $25; E. F. Bailey, $5; Dr. J. W. Stanley, $5; Walter P. Sprunt, $5; L. Blumenthal, $5; A. B. Williams, $2.50.

The list of other guarantors and subscribers yesterday will be published as soon as the central committee has had time to tabulate the amounts.

The Handsome $35 watch offered to the young man bringing in the largest amount of subscriptions to the Wilson fund was won by W. L. McIntyre, this contest having secured $137.25 for the fund. Adrian Rouff secured such a long list of contributors that certain gentlemen on the committee decided also to make him a present of a gold watch and that will be done first thing Monday morning. H. Gouverneur was second in the contest and was also awarded a gold watch by his father. The total amount secured was $19,225; Gouverneur, $17,500; Rouff, $40,500.

Headquarters Still Open.
Monday and Tuesday the Wilson headquarters will be kept open and on election night returns will be received there by direct wire from the Postal Telegraph Cable Co., which has also been secured through the courtesy of Manager Stansell to supplement the bulletin service of The Star which will be displayed by stereopticon. A wire will be run both into the headquarters and Manager Stansell has also assured The Star of a special wire into his building. All Democrats are invited to drop around at any time.

Night Services at St. John's.
Members and friends of St. John's Episcopal church are asked to take note of the fact that the night services suspended during the Summer months, will be resumed the first Sunday in November, and will continue through the Winter at 8 o'clock each Sunday evening. The sermons at these night services will be a study of the later history of the Jewish Nation and the Old Testament Church, with special reference to the lessons God teaches all humanity through them. The service will be the simple but deeply devotional "Evening Prayer" of the Episcopal Church, with special music and singing. The public generally is given a cordial invitation.

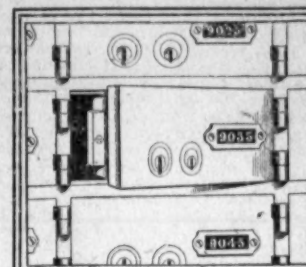

Funeral of Miss Skipper.

The funeral of Miss Havela Skipper, whose death occurred Friday morning at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, was held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning from the funeral parlors of Mr. W. E. Yopp on Princess street, conducted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church. Interment was in Bellevue cemetery and the pallbearers were Messrs. C. H. Keen, S. O. Frink, A. P. Merritt and E. H. Whitaker.

SOROSIS FAIR WILL HAVE MANY DEPARTMENTS

As previously announced the women of Sorosis are planning an elaborate and attractive sale to be held December 2nd, 4th and 5th. This is a good time for the ladies of the city to do Christmas shopping. Each department of Sorosis will offer for sale articles peculiar to its line of work.

The Literature Department will have an up-to-date, model book shop, including everything necessary and ornamental for the library. The Art Department in its booth will offer tasteful novelties, including Christmas favors and fancies. The Home Science Department will display for sale the needful accessories of the well-stocked kitchen. The Music Department will give opportunity for every lover of music to add to the Christmas cheer in its display. The Civic Department has charge of the floral display and will present new ideas in beautifying the homes. There will also be a Fancy Work Booth in which will be offered for sale all kinds of fine needlework, to which all the members of Sorosis are contributors. This booth will be presided over by the ex-presidents and officers.

During the middle of the day a business men's lunch will be served and tea will be served each afternoon and evening.

Among the special booths are the doll and candy displays, where one will find something to please the hearts of the children. The health committee will arrange a booth both characteristic and helpful. Special committees have been appointed to take charge of arrangements for the successful management of the fair.

Every member of Sorosis is heartily supporting this enterprise to the end that nothing but social and financial success can be the result.

YOUNG LADIES ENTERTAIN

AT HALLOWEEN PARTY

Misses Annie Kelly and Lillian Fonville were delightful entertainers at a merry Halloween party on Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. John J. Kelly, 115 North Fourth street. This handsome home was tastefully and beautifully decorated with festoons of gray moss, ferns and cut flowers and variegated electric lights gave a pretty effect to the decorative scheme.

Sixty guests participated, and by ones, by couples and by groups they came in and out of the room in manner of masques, "from grave to gay, from lively to severe." The incoming ladies and gentlemen came mysteriously and silently entered the portals of festivity, each creating the merriest sensation by their character representations and appropriate, demure or grotesque costumes. Many of them were unique, several modish girls later being revealed as young men who neatly imitated the real feminine article. The parlors, halls and rooms were turned over to the jolly crowd, and then games, instrumental and vocal music and rollicking fun-making characterized the affair, while each happy dissembler was trying to recognize each other.

There were few recognitions, so that when the dining room was thrown open for refreshments and all had gathered around the festal board, the exclamations of surprise were numerous. Amid peals of laughter the jolly party unmasked, many having been so completely disguised as to defy the detection of the keenest intimates.

The walls of the pretty dining room were decorated with numerous pictures of the sinister black cat which is typical of the superstitions of Halloween. The tables were arranged so as to make the appropriate initial "H," and then menu cards and doilies bore the picture of black cats, while cutflowers, and the traditional yellow pumpkin and lighted jack-o'-lanterns constituted the table decorations. The menu, probably not recognizable but delightful all the same, was as follows: Jack O' Lanterns, spinsters, thimbles, fairy wands, Mystic Potion, nightmare, demons' delight, hocus potius, witches brew.

This rare repast caused great enjoyment and afterwards witches' punch was served in an adjoining room from a cauldron swinging from the tripod used by the witches when they make their brew.

This was a Woodrow Wilson Halloween, and a feature of the evening was the fortune telling by a lady gifted in the art of reading the past, revealing the future and predicting the election of Wilson and Marshall. Donations for the campaign fund were dropped into a rose vase, and the occasion was severely Democratic, even to the "rooster" that is supposed to be crowing for victory. A square lantern brilliantly lighted from within contained the picture of the Democratic bird and this sign was painted in the corner: "Will Crow November 5th."

After refreshments, the merrymaking and festivities were kept up till the wee sma' hours, and when it was all over the departing guests were profuse in their expressions of delight at having been so charmingly entertained by Misses Kelly and Fonville.

ENJOYABLE HALLOWEEN

PARTY AT NORTHWEST.

Last Thursday evening, Northwest was the scene of a delightful Halloween party, given by Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Messick, at their home, "Piedmont." In honor of their popular daughter, Miss Ethel Gertrude Messick.

For the festive occasion the house was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, roses, autumn leaves and long leaf pine boughs, the whole making a scene that was exceedingly attractive. The porch, hall and rooms were decorated with jack-o'-lanterns, and till past midnight a happy throng of young people whiled away the time with games appropriate to Halloween. The guests came from miles around, some from Acme, Malmö, Phoenix, Newberlin and Wilmington. Miss Messick graciously received her young friends and Mr. and Mrs. Messick made most agreeable hosts. Substantial and delicate refreshments were served, and the leaving hour came all too soon for those who attended.

The following guests were present from Malmö, Phoenix, Newberlin, Acme and Wilmington: Dr. and Mrs. T. V. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Stanford; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scull; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wooten; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McAuley; Misses Nellie Moore, Gladys Mitchell, Maria Smith, Emma Goldstein and Addie Russell; Messrs. Albert Smith, T. H. Williams, C. Wilson, Chas. Lynch, T. Murrell and Mr. Mitchell.

The Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters and Sons is preparing a most delightful evening's entertainment in the form of a society comedy to be given at the Academy. The play is spicy, brisk and laughable, and will furnish refined humor for all. There will also be several bright and catchy choruses. The proceeds from the play are to go towards building a chapel for the boys' training school at Concord, which is a most worthy cause. Tickets are now being sold.

GREATLY ENLARGED

Sparks Shows Wonderfully Improved Since Last Visit to City

The excellent reputation left by the Sparks Shows on former visits to this city would alone insure a liberal patronage this time, but the lusty growth and vast improvements in the show since its last visit will make it more attractive than ever.

Sparks is a man of energy and enterprise, wide experience and ample capital, and he has brought all this to bear in making his show superior to all over similar exhibitions. He has a brand new train of monster railway cars built especially for him, all new gorgeous cages, dens, costly trappings, etc. He has engaged the best talent big salaries can procure. He has expended over $40,000 in increased equipment. Every effort has been made regardless of cost to make his show satisfying to his pride and advanced ideas. That he has succeeded is amply proven by the way the newspapers speak of his exhibition wherever he has appeared. It is the universal verdict that he has now the most splendid, complete and high class exhibition of his kind in America. Everyone should come down town in time to see the gorgeous street parade at noon, and then follow the crowd out to the show grounds where some big free outside exhibitions are scheduled to take place just previous to the opening of the doors to the main tent.

The Sparks Shows will exhibit in Wilmington Wednesday, November 6th.

COMBATING A DISEASE

Reward for Information of Existence Of Presence of Dourine

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The U. S. Department of Agriculture having found Dourine to exist in certain counties in the eastern part of Montana, has, in co-operation with the State of Montana, offered a reward for authentic information leading to the discovery of a horse affected with that disease.

It was believed that the disease had been completely eradicated from that section of the United States, and this new outbreak is to be met with the same drastic and thorough treatment that was used in previous campaigns against the disease.

The inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry in charge of such work is authorized to pay the sum of $50 for authentic information leading to the discovery of an affected stallion and $25 for information as to the whereabouts and ownership of a mare affected with the disease.

This disease was first recognized in the United States in 1886, though it has long been prevalent in Asia and Europe. Each outbreak has been vigorously suppressed by the State and National authorities, and it is with a view of preventing the dissemination of and of aiding in the extermination of this disease that the above mentioned rewards are offered for information that will direct the authorities to sources of new outbreaks, so that they may quarantine the animals, slaughter those that are affected, and treat those that have been exposed.

THE GREEK RED CROSS

An Appeal to United States in the Present Crisis

New York, Oct. 19th, 1912. Dear Sir and Madam: With the commencement of hostilities between Greece and Turkey the demands upon the Greek Red Cross, heavily taxed already by the general mobilization of the army, are daily growing larger and the society is becoming dependent to a very great extent upon the aid of those who sympathize with the sufferers in this inevitable struggle.

At the request of the governing body of the Greek Red Cross in Athens, we make an earnest appeal to the generosity of the people of the United States to send us contributions to enable us to strengthen the important and arduous labors of the "Red Cross" and to assure its continuance. Small or large sums will be equally thankfully received. Every dollar helps. Every contribution will be acknowledged by our treasurer, Mr. A. P. Ralli, care Ralli Bros., 15 William street, New York city, to whom kind subscribers to our fund are requested to forward their remittance.

..Theatrical..

The popular Bijou is ready for another glorious week and will inaugurate the new week tomorrow in rousing manner. The bill tomorrow will be fraught with what is best in the fun line and what is superlative in the dramatic. The latter will be especially strong, and will be headed by Lubin's "The Forest Ranger," which presents as one of its thrilling scenes a fierce forest fire, during which a daring rescue is made.

A great Sell, "The Fisherboy's Faith," is also a star. It is a steady story of the fishing banks and of the courage and faith of a sturdy fisher-boy. The scenery is decidedly beautiful. The leading fun picture is a perfect howl. It is "A Personal Affair." To play a lark a young man advertises as a rich young woman in search of a husband and invites correspondence. A pranksome young woman answers the advertisement, posing as a young man. The complications that ensue are very mirthful and are of the most novel type.

The Grand Theatre. The new week at the Grand Theatre will open with a splendid bill and one that should certainly please. Irving Berlin's latest song success, "Keep Away From the Fellow Who Owns an Automobile" by the same author as "Everybody's Doin' It," will be Mr. Chick's song and it will be a great one. It is New York's biggest hit and all automobilists and joy riders should not fail to hear it. It is a whistleable song and one that should prove a strong attraction.

The pictures will be put on with full orchestra accompaniment and this in itself is a great feature. One of the features tomorrow is a Kalem, "The Girl in the Caboose," a railroad story, and another will be "The Painted Lady," a Biograph, in which is shown how blind austerity sometimes breeds disaster. All the pictures are given with splendid realistic effects and they should be seen to be appreciated. All roads will lead to the Grand Theatre on Monday.

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION.

Four Seriously Hurt in Accident on Battleship Vermont.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2.—Two men were fatally injured and four others are suffering from severe scald burns as the result of the blowing out of the head of the battleship Vermont's No. 6 boiler as the Vermont lay at anchor in Hampton Roads last night. The boiler head blew out while under banked fires. No other damage is reported to the Vermont, which will likely be repaired at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

The Vermont's dead are Michael Vincent Horan, coal passer, and Richard Matthew Wagner, fireman of the second class, whose bodies are being held pending advice from their next of kin.

The injured are H. W. Cramer, J. W. Newberry, M. W. Green and C. K. Hotelling.

Cramer is said to be seriously injured. The injured are yet aboard the United States naval hospital ship Solace, to which they were removed early today. It was aboard the Solace Wagner and Horan died after their transfer from the Vermont in Hampton Roads. The injured will be removed to the naval hospital at Portsmouth, as soon as their condition will permit.

A naval board will at once investigate the cause of the explosion on the Vermont.

ALL CONFIDENT AS CAMPAIGN CLOSES

win and win by the most impressive figures in the history of our party."
Hill is confident.

Charles D. Hill, Republican National chairman: "The most remarkable campaign within the memory of the present generation has drawn to a close and we now await the verdict of the American people. I am confident that the verdict will carry with it a vote of confidence in the courageous, unostentatious and patriotic leadership of William Howard Taft, and that it will continue the present splendid administration of achievement under which the American people have made such remarkable progress and enjoyed so abundant a prosperity."

"Nothing short of a political revolution, of which there are no indications, could place the election of Mr. Taft in jeopardy. In my opinion he will receive enough votes in the dependable Republican States to assure him a handsome majority in the electoral college with a sufficient number in doubtful States to swell the total to a most decisive victory."

T. R. Will Carry 25 States—Dixon. Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Progressive National chairman: "The Nation will be astounded at the enormous vote for Roosevelt and Johnson next Tuesday. The election returns of four years ago count for nothing in the present contest."

"All indications point to a Roosevelt landslide. No longer questions that either Col. Roosevelt or Mr. Wilson will be elected President. Taft will certainly be a hard third in the race, with Dobs pushing him closely for third place in Connecticut, Illinois and Indiana."

"The past 10 days have seen a tremendous drift towards Roosevelt in every part of the country. Facing political revolution as we do, there can be no certain yardstick of measurement as in former years. Based on most comprehensive reports from every State chairman of the Progressive party, it now seems certain that Roosevelt will carry 25 States, having a total of 297 electoral votes. Wilson will carry 12 States, having 130 electoral votes. Ten States having a total of 104 electoral votes I believe to be doubtful."

From Western Headquarters. Chicago, Nov. 2.—Managers of Republican, Democratic and Progressive Western headquarters today concluded their campaign work with unqualified assertions that their tickets would win at the polls on Tuesday.

The Republican managers asserted that President Taft would get 315 electoral votes; the Democratic leaders declared that Wilson would get as many votes as Taft and Roosevelt combined in 26 States, and the Progressives claimed 24 States for Roosevelt as a certainty, with probabilities of obtaining three or four more.

David W. Mulvane, manager of Taft headquarters in Chicago, said: "Mr. Taft will be re-elected President, receiving 315 electoral votes. Upon a square issue between a united Republican party and the Democratic opposition against free trade the result never would have been in doubt." Joseph L. Davis, director of the Democratic campaign in the West, declared: "The Democrats will win this election even if we don't get the support of a single Northern State east of the Alleghenies. It would not surprise me at all if we get the electoral vote of every State in the Union. We are certain, however, of 26 States. From these 26 States I have conducted precinct polls and ascertained positively that the total Republican precincts carried by Wilson, or reported to be for Wilson, equals the combined Republican precincts reported to be for Taft and Roosevelt. We will carry Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, North Dakota, California, Oregon and Washington, in addition to many other States."

Medill McCormick, of the Progressive campaign committee, announced that the third party was assured a plurality in 24 States.

"The Roosevelt landslide is on," said Mr. McCormick, "and nothing on earth can stop it. In addition to Illinois, New York and California, we will most assuredly get 21 additional States, with a probability that this number will be increased to the 30 mark."

MCCULLENS ARE GUILTY.
End of Trial in Sampson County—Both Defendants Guilty.
(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Nov. 2.—The trial of William R. McCullen and his son, James McCullen, for the murder of Joseph Simmons was concluded here today after consuming ten days of this term of the court.

The case was hard fought by both the State and the defense, each side having a strong array of counsel. The jury took the case at noon today and after being out about one hour returned a verdict of guilty as to both defendants of murder in the second degree. This verdict seemed to meet general approval. The McCullens were men of some prominence and it is not believed they intended killing Simmons, but shot him in the legs to wound and frighten him. From the wound received the injured man bled to death. The elder McCullen was sentenced to serve two years on the county roads and pay the widow of Joseph Simmons $3,000. He is required to be confined in jail when not able to work on the roads. James McCullen is given a sentence of 20 years in the penitentiary.

ports show they are even more likely to go for Governor Wilson than for Mr. Roosevelt, but they have been placed in the doubtful column.

The one thing which stands out in all the reports, and which may be the determining factor of the election, is that the Democratic party is practically united, while the Republican party is divided.

The New York Evening Post today says: "The Presidential campaign of 1912, in many respects one of the most extraordinary in American history, is finished, and awaits now the verdict of the ballot box. Judging by all the ordinary tests of political mathematics and political experience, Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, each the Governor of his State, and nominee of the Democratic party for President and Vice President, respectively, will be elected by an overwhelming plurality, possibly an actual majority of the popular vote and by an even more impressive majority of the electoral college of the States. Every ordinary probability indicates that the Democratic ticket will receive not less than 387 out of the 531 electoral votes—far in excess of the 266 required for an actual majority."

WILL STILL SERVE N. J. AS GOVERNOR

comprehension and soberly determined to obey the voice of thoughtful men everywhere by a carefully considered course of moderate yet courageous reform."

"The more wise statement of the choice is a prediction. We shall trust ourselves and let the little groups of discoverers who would have us vest our powers in them learn, in their turn and at their leisure to trust us also."

Surry, Me., Nov. 1.—Edwin Goodwin, a 17-year-old boy, admitted yesterday that he was responsible for the death of Capt. Henry C. Young, whose body was found near a small stream here Thursday. He was charged with murder. When asked to plead the boy said, "I suppose I am guilty. I did not calculate to kill him."

New York, Oct. 30.—The will of David Bruce Brown, the automobile race driver killed near Milwaukee, as filed for probate today, placed the value of his estate at over $500,000 personal and over $500,000 real property. All is left to his mother, Mrs. Ruth A. Bruce-Brown, of this city.

"My fourteen-year-old daughter was very thin and delicate. She had a bad cough so that I became very much alarmed about her health. She was nervous and did not sleep well, had very little appetite and doctors did not help her. Having heard so much about Vinol, I decided to give it a trial. It has helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing once. In fact, her cough is gone. Her appetite is greatly improved and she has gained in weight. Vinol is a wonderful medicine and I will always keep it in the house. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

Mrs. Wm. Archer, Long Branch, N. J.
This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil is a wonderful body builder and strength creator for both young and old. We promise to give back your money in every such case where Vinol does not benefit. This shows our faith in Vinol. Robt. R. Bellamy, Drugist, Wilmington, N. C.

Vance and Simmons on the Tariff Question

VANCE'S POSITION IN 1883.

(Cong. Record, Feb. 15, 1883.)

"But as long as other things remain taxed at a very high rate of duty, it seems to me that no just Senator would ask me to refuse to the people of my State its share of the law, of the policy the Government has declared.

"Is it any more foolish to expect me to feed his constituents on free rice, while he charges mine for the privilege of having the sunlight pass through their windows, 60 or 70 per cent? If that is not a foolish proposition it is worse than foolish; IT BORDERS ON DISHONESTY TO EXPECT ME TO GIVE HIM THE PRODUCTS OF MY STATE FREE, WHILE HE CHARGES ME A HIGH DUTY FOR HIS."

SIMMONS' POSITION IN 1912.

(Charlotte Speech.)

"If you will put the things the farmer buys on the free list, I am willing to put the things he sells on the free list. If you reduce the duty on the things he buys, I am willing to reduce the duty on the things he makes; but I am never going to consent to putting the things he makes on the free list, while he is required to pay the Payne-Aldrich rates on the things he buys.

"Why should I not stand by and fight for the farmer? I was born and reared on the farm. All of my ancestors have been farmers, and my only son is a farmer, and pretty near all that I own is in farm lands. I want it understood that while I am in Congress I shall continue to defend his interest, and that whoever kicks his dog around in the Senate while I am there is going to get a kick from me.

If Senator Vance were living today and in the way of Governor Kitchin's ambition, he would be denounced as a Republican for taking the same position on the tariff that Senator Simmons now takes.

WHY GOVERNOR KITCHIN IS LOSING STRENGTH.

(Laurinburg Exchange.)

"You ask, why is Governor Kitchin losing strength? We answer, because his campaign is being exposed and the people resent trickery. We have heard of farmers living in this country who cheered the Governor on the occasion of his recent visit to Laurinburg, when he criticised Mr. Simmons for his wicked (?) voting, referring them to a certain page in the Congressional Record for proof of his statement. (He failed to tell them what the votes were for). They took the trouble to investigate and behold they found that Governor Kitchin had tricked them into cheering him for criticising Senator Simmons because HE VOTED TO PLACE BAGGING AND TIES ON THE FREE LIST, THE VERY THING THE FARMERS OF THE SOUTH HAVE BEEN WORKING FOR SINCE THE DAYS OF THE ALLIANCE, AND BEFORE THAT TIME."

"THE GOVERNOR ASLEEP AT THE SWITCH."

What the Raleigh News and Observer Said Editorially of Governor Kitchin's Attitude on the Trust Question.

"The human beings back of the trust will be made to know that it is better to obey the law than to violate it * * * that if they hold the law in contempt and break it at will, they will be put behind prison bars."

That was the promise that gave Mr. Kitchin the Governorship. Aside from recommendations in messages, the Governor has done nothing, the trusts have run rough-shod over the people, he has approved the ineffective Blow-Bassett substitute, and devoted an hundred times as much time to criticising those anti-trust men who denouncing that worthless law than to trying to end trust robbery in the State. Though declaring in a speech at Spray that "officials are proper subjects of public scrutiny and their action of criticism" he has impugned wrong motives to his best supporters when they criticised him and sought to lead the people away from the issues presented by the criticisms by claiming that they were made to injure him in his candidacy for the Senate. Last Sunday's News and Observer contained a communication from Mr. Misenheimer, of Rockingham county, and Senator Lockhart, of Anson county, criticising the Governor because, after his election as Governor, he did not proceed against the trusts as he had led the people to expect he would do. These gentlemen were the ardent supporters of Mr. Kitchin in his candidacy and could have no motive except regret that his administration has been a barren fig tree with respect to vigorous fighting against the trust evil. Mr. Kitchin asked to be put in charge of the switch so as to be on guard and prevent the destruction caused by the on-coming trust train. His request was granted, but results show that he has been "asleep at the switch."

Later there came to Raleigh a delegation of tobacco farmers from Rockingham county, with Senator Reuben Reid, who had been defeated in his county for re-election chiefly because he had elected the tobacco trust in the previous Senate. They went to see the Governor and said to friends that they told him the people were surprised and disappointed that he had not pressed some law to put the "trust human beings behind prison bars", as he had promised. Senator Reid was disappointed that the indignation against the trusts seemed to have oozed out of the Governor, and said he mainly discussed the difficulties of doing anything and seemed not to have the militant spirit that had been admired in him with reference to the trust legislation and trust prosecution.

In the campaign for the governorship this paper took no part, its editor not even voting in the primary. He believed that all candidates were clean and high, and that either one, if elected, would stand against monopoly; but so earnestly had the paper stood with Mr. Kitchin in his fight against the subsidy that the friends of the other candidates felt that its influence had already strengthened Mr. Kitchin. "If so," replied the editor, "very well. I want to see a Governor in North Carolina who will not merely talk against the trusts on the stump, but who will bond his every energy to put the men who are robbing the people behind the bars, and Mr. Kitchin pledges his sacred honor that he will do this or leave no stone unturned to that end."

A short while before Mr. Kitchin was inaugurated, confident that as Governor he would be as vigorous in securing effective laws against the trusts and enforcing them as he had been vigorous in denouncing them when seeking office, the editor of The News and Observer told him that the paper wished to be in hearty accord with his policies and to further them in every way along the line of his declarations of the Democratic platform.

After he was inaugurated, with reference to the trust question, there seemed to come a paralysis over the office of the Governor. Men, earnestly in favor of the most effective laws against trusts, came out of his office and said that the Governor had no policy outlined, and such men as Senators Reuben Reid and J. A. Lockhart, who had been his warm supporters, were astounded because he was not outlining a policy and making a fight in the Legislature to carve out vigorously his promises on the stump.

Speaking along this vein, he convinced many people that he, and he alone, among the candidates, if elected Governor, would put the "trust humans" behind "the prison bars," and he pledged himself to do that with such earnestness, such vehemence and such compelling force as to secure the votes of most of the people who were against the trusts, except those who personally knew that Mr. Horne and Mr. Craig were just as true in their hostility to monopolies as Mr. Kitchin was, only not so vehement. He told the people that if he were elected he would put the trust magnates behind prison bars; that they were opposed to him because they knew he believed in "putting stripes upon the big thieves as well as upon the little ones." That was the issue upon which he based his campaign, and that was the issue upon which he won the Governorship. The supporters of Mr. Craig and Mr. Horne felt that he did them great injustice in claiming to be the only man who would use every power of the administration to convict the trusts and make everything else subservient to that one important thing. But, except in the sections where Mr. Craig and Mr. Horne were not well-known thousands of people accepted Mr. Kitchin's own statement and believed that he, if elected, had the medicine for the trusts and would give it to them if it cost him his life.

"He has done nothing to put them in stripes. If he has tried, nobody has seen or felt his efforts in that direction. He has approved a worthless law, and not even tried to enforce it, so that the sum total of his administration as to trusts has been NOTHING, simply NOTHING, except a few recommendations. That is the record!

Mr. Kitchin convinced the people that the Governor could put the trust magnates in stripes and that his election meant that. Nobody could blame him if the trust magnates were still keeping out of prison bars, if he had fought as vigorously to secure their prosecution and punishment as he made the people believe he was going to do when he asked them to make him Governor."

"Governor Kitchin says: 'Let the records speak as to whether I have modified my views on trusts since I was elected.' Very well. 'Let the records speak'—the court records. When he was seeking the nomination for Governor, Mr. Kitchin said in his speech at Raleigh: 'Trusts are iniquitous and should not exist. You must let the human back of them know that it is better to obey the law than to violate it.' * * * that if they hold the law in contempt and break it at will, they will be put behind prison bars." He went on to say that the American Tobacco Company and the Southern Railway opposed his nomination because "they knew I will not acquiesce in their injustices." He has been Governor for nearly three years. Has the tobacco trust ever been prosecuted? Has he carried out his pledge that "they (the 'trust humans') will be put behind prison bars"? He told us in 1908, when he wished votes, that the tobacco trust opposed him because "they know I will not acquiesce in their injustices." Has he not been quietly 'acquiescing'? Have not the trusts robbed the people as much since he was Governor as before? Has he done a single thing to offend the tobacco trust or any other trust? The Federal courts have prosecuted and a private corporation in the Federal court has secured from a jury a verdict that the tobacco trust is an illegal corporation in restraint of trade, but the Governor has done nothing. So far as any "putting behind prison bars" is concerned, or even trying to do it. Buck Duke could not have done less against the trust than Governor Kitchin has done.

What are the "records" to which Gov. Kitchin appeals? Not a single act, not a record of an indictment, not a trust "human" put "behind bars"—not a single attempt to punish trusts. The only record to which he appeals is certain quotations from his own writings. One act is worth a ton of recommendations. It is needless here to quote what he recommends—he has put the strongest paragraphs in his letter. But it is proper to say that a whole month of the short sixty-days legislative session passed after his inauguration before anything else had been heard from him. He seemed "asleep at the switch."

"It has been as mild as a May morning and the tobacco trust has been so well pleased that it bought a million dollars worth of State bonds as a token of its happiness. That, while at Washington and in some States the public was troubled by trust prosecutions, in North Carolina they didn't even have to hire a lawyer to defend them in any particular. Sweet concord and peace have reigned between officials and trusts, with the hands of the trusts in the pockets of the tobacco farmer."

Mr. Kitchin a "dangerous man!" Bless your life, except for a chance wad of paper thrown at the trusts in his messages, the trusts have so little fear of him or his policies that they can eat out of his hand!

Ransom's service, 23 years	4,176,200
Pritchard and Butler, 6 yrs.	573,700
Pritchard and Simmons, 2 years	319,700
Simmons and Overman, 7 years	3,956,364

In seven years Mr. Simmons was instrumental in getting nearly as much as General Ransom got in 23 years. The above does not include appropriations to build postoffice buildings, etc.

At the subsequent session of 1912, Mr. Simmons was instrumental in getting for North Carolina appropriations of about $800,000. In addition to these appropriations for waterways in North Carolina, Mr. Simmons added to the House River and Harbor Bill, when it came to the Senate, appropriations for three particular projects of great importance; for the Albemarle Canal, Cape Lookout Harbor of Refuge, and deepening the Cape Fear to 26 feet. He added the appropriations in this bill of $100,000 to improve the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal—having heretofore secured an appropriation of $500,000 for the purchase of this canal—and committed Congress to an improvement of this and other parts of the inland waterway, which when completed will cost about five million dollars.

Also, the appropriation of $300,000 for the harbor of refuge at Cape Lookout—committing Congress to an improvement which, when completed, will cost about three and a half million dollars.

Also, the appropriation of $300,000 for the Cape Fear river, to deepen that river (below Wilmington) to 26 feet.

These three projects will cost over nine millions of dollars, and, when completed, they will be worth untold millions to North Carolina.

Particularly, we also call attention to the $500,000 appropriation to start the good roads, which will eventually be improved all over the country by the government, just as it has heretofore improved the waterways.—Duplin Enterprise.

Hon. J. A. Lockhart, Speaking for Judge Clark, Denounces Governor Kitchin.

(Charlotte Speech.)

"But Kitchin says, 'I am the only true-blue, all wool-and-a-yard-wide 20-karat railroad eat 'em alive in existence. (Laughter). The only damage he ever did the Southern Railway was to talk about it."

Mr. Lockhart said that the Southern Railway is clearing $2,000,000 annually from the North Carolina railroad, the property of the State, which has been leased to it for 99 years and it is violating the terms of the lease every day. If the Governor had announced his intention to invalidate that lease, the railroad would have been begging for mercy within three months. The Governor could have done something if he would have done it.

"I don't like to talk about myself," said Mr. Lockhart. "In that respect I differ from Governor Kitchin. But it has been said that the reason I am opposing him is that he did not appoint me to office. The only thing wrong with that statement is that I never applied to him for an office in my life. I never asked anybody to ask him for one and I never will apply to him for an office as long as I live. He had been Governor but a week when I wasn't on speaking terms with him. I'll give $500 for any application any one can produce that I ever made to him. In the first place I didn't want any office, in the second place I couldn't get it if I wanted it, and in the third place I would not accept any office that I did want, from his hands."

"I did support him four years ago, though I am sorer ashamed to admit it. (Laughter). Down in my country and even up here in Charlotte I worked for him, paid his hotel bills, hired brass bands, and then after he was elected when we were trying to get an anti-trust law passed he said, 'Go slow boys. The American Tobacco Company has done too much for North Carolina for us to be doing anything to it.' He kept changing the subject and talking about something else, but we would bring him back to it and he finally asked, 'What makes you think the people want anything done?' We answered that his nomination made us believe so. He answered, 'Oh, I was not elected on any issue. It was entirely a matter of personality.' (Laughter). During all the Legislature Governor Kitchin was on both sides of the trust question."

"I will dare and defy him to publish a statement, and get Jim Manning to say it's all right, giving the amount contributed to his fund four years ago, what men contributed and the amount each man gave."

"When Woodrow Wilson and Marshall, of Indiana, at the conference of Governors at Sea Girt, N. J., in the Summer of 1911, were taking steps to preserve the rights of the States, curtail the encroachments of the Federal judiciary, prevent government by injunction, and enable the States to require railroads to render suitable service at reasonable rates, Kitchin, alone of all the Governors, found against them, opposed States' rights, defended the encroachments of the Federal judiciary, upheld government by injunction and opposed permitting States to require that railroads give people suitable service at reasonable rates."

"He says we need a man in the Senate who is in harmony with Woodrow Wilson," said Mr. Lockhart. "In his one opportunity in public life to cooperate with him he fought against him. Measuring him by his own standard, he is not a fit man to represent North Carolina in the Senate."

How Kitchin Voted

At the request of quite a number of people we herewith again reproduce the brilliant record of the gifted Governor Kitchin in the 60th Congress, for which he drew FULL PAY. This, it will be remembered, is the year he DESERTED CONGRESS to canvass the State for Governor. His record as Governor is worse than that of Congressman, if possible. Here is his record month by month for the session of 1907-08:

December, voting 1.
January, voting 0.
February, voting 1—not voting 3.
March, voting 1; answered present 1; not voting 4.
April, voting 15; not voting 43.

May, not voting 122 times.
Summary for the Session—Voted 18 times; answered present, ONE TIME; NOT VOTING ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-TWO TIMES.

How is that for representing the interest of the people? Yet Governor Kitchin in the face of this record asks the voters to return him to Congress.—Oxford Public Ledger.

For an entire session of Congress Kitchin remained in North Carolina, drew his salary, and went all over the State abusing Locke Craig in his efforts to become Governor of North Carolina; and now he has deserted the office of Governor and while drawing his salary is going over the State abusing Senator Simmons, who has always remained at his post of duty.

DOCKS FOR PART OF NEW YORK

Taking Care of Modern Leviathans of the Deep—Fake Paris Models—Valuable Stallion Goes to France—Other Notes

New York, Nov. 2.—New York, it is at last announced, is to have thousand-foot docks and in this decision the city is congratulating itself on the satisfactory settlement of the greatest commercial problem which it or any other municipality has ever had to face, in which nothing less than the supremacy of the port was threatened.

So rapid has been the growth in the size of ocean-going vessels in the last few years that New York docks have failed to keep pace with them and when the 800-foot dock arrived there were many who held that the limit had been reached. Hardly had these docks been completed, however, when the need of still longer ones appeared. One transatlantic line, for instance, will have a 912-foot monster in operation next Spring to be followed by one 950 feet in length, and another still larger. Under the existing conditions it would be impossible for these leviathans to dock here and New York has been confronted with the choice of lengthening her docks or seeing her foreign commerce diverted to other ports. Ordinarily the decision would have been simple, but the docks which now line the two sides of the river already jut so far into the stream as to make navigation difficult and often dangerous in the part which remains available. Engineers have argued that to narrow the fairways by another 200 feet through the lengthening of the docks would make it too narrow for the movement of the huge vessels. It is only after long deliberation that the army engineers of the New York harbor line finally decided to recommend the extension of certain docks to the thousand-foot mark. So New York can again breathe easily, at least temporarily. Should ocean steamships increase in size in the next fifty years as rapidly as they have in the last half century, it is pointed out, it would be a physical impossibility to build docks big enough to handle them on the North river, so that New York may eventually be faced by the necessity of losing her commerce or selecting a new harbor.

That Parisian labels do not necessarily mean Parisian gowns is the most disturbing feature, from a feminine point of view at least, of the discovery here of a trade that comes so little short of a downright swindle that nobody but a customs officer can tell the difference. But though this questionable trade has been brought to light no one has yet been seen rushing to the front to do anything about it, and it seems doubtful whether any one will. It seems that women's tailors and clothing manufacturers here have a habit of sewing the labels of well-known Parisian firms into suits that are made on our own soil, and sending the garments out to the retailers as genuine Paris creations. Not only do they do it, but they do it openly. They import the labels in bulk, and rather than the labels which obviously can only be used for fraudulent purposes—are recognized by the government as legitimate goods, are named as dutiable commodities under the tariff and hundreds of dollars of duty are collected on them every season. A clothing manufacturer who has a collection of several thousand of these labels showed samples bearing the names of Worth, Paquin, Callot, Alphonsine, and a dozen or more others. It is said that the high duty charged on these imports has given rise to a new industry here and that ten or twelve American firms now manufacture similar labels which counterfeit the foreign marks. Though the profit is not so great as that to be made from counterfeit money, the trades is absolutely safe. It is said to be growing rapidly.

The highest priced animal in the world, valued at nearly a sixth of a million dollars, sailed from here the other day as a passenger on the liner Minnewassee. Lamentations long and loud have gone up over the departure for Rock Sand, the world's prize stallion, goes as an emigrant to France, and unless something very much unexpected happens he will never come back. Rock Sand, a stunning piece of horse flesh, has been owned for years by August Belmont. Since the anti-gambling laws have put an end to horse racing here on anything like the old scale, race horses have, of course, been a drug on the market, and the loyal betting man who insisted that the breed of American horse flesh must be improved have had an opportunity to lament the exporting of many fine animals before now. And they are lamenting Rock Sand. There was a moaning of the bar when he put out to sea that would have done credit to the Prophet Jeremiah or a trustworthy Wall Street man just before election. The anti-gambling people have always contended that the horses that would be driven out of the country by suppressing betting were race horses so highly specialized that the lost strains would never have done any good to American horses in general, however much they might improve the racing breed. Rock Sand has been sold to a syndicate of French breeders at a price which is reported to be $150,000.

New Yorkers have been told so persistently that they are ruining their digestions and their lungs and hearts and livers and brains and killing themselves off generally by the life of the Metropolis, that they have come to look upon themselves as a short-lived race and let it go at that. But there is one spot hereabouts which, while not actually in New York city is still well within the high tension area of the metropolis, where the life of new days is not as deadly as it is said to be. At least nothing has hindered the breaking of all the American records for longevity there. In the suburban town of Long Branch, over in New Jersey, it was discovered at a birthday party the other day that seven of the guests were, collectively, 651 years old. The eldest, William Redmond, was 102; four ladies were 97, 95 and two of them 91, respectively, and two men were 90 and 88. Besides these in the town, which is only a good-sized commuters' village, there are no less than 45 people who are 80 years old or more. It is believed that Long Branch outdistances all other American communities of its size, even the famous villages of New England, in its facilities for storing oldest inhabitants.

The city government has at last taken notice of a fraud which has been running for years, with doors wide open on the Broadway sidewalks exactly where that great street is at its brightest and busiest. The false auction rooms have been exposed and Mayor Gaynor is expected to do something vigorous about it before long. The false auction "game" is the simplest in the world, and the places have been run in such a bare-faced style that it seemed unlikely that anybody could be fooled into buying there, although the crowds inside the rooms showed that that has been far from being the case. The story is that the Mayor passed one of the Broadway places on his way to the theatre recently and he was struck by its "fe-y" air that he ordered an investigation. The articles put up for sale, curious, cheap "art works" and the like, are, of course, practically worthless, and a crowd of hangers on who are in the employ of the management bid up everything so that no outsider can get a bargain. These auction fakers have a slang all their own. The confederates taken together are known as "schillibier," which is the plural form of the word; the singular meaning a single fake bidder is "schill." A prospective bidder is called a "rummy" and any genuine bidder is a "sucker." The victims are usually visitors from out of town, thought a surprising number of New Yorkers have "bitten" and repented in silence as usual.

WHIRLWIND FINISH PLANNED

Wilson Managers, Facing Deficit, Urge Many Small Contributions. Governor Wilson's managers who are in charge of the financial end of the campaign have planned a whirlwind finish for this week. In order to close up what seems certain now to be a deficit that will run into thousands of dollars, they have redoubled their efforts to obtain popular contributions. Thousands of letters are going out daily from the Chicago headquarters to probable contributors. These communications contain requests for sums varying with the ability to give of the person to whom the appeal is made. No amount, however small is despised by the Wilson managers. The man who has only a dollar to give is as welcome and is treated with the same courtesy as the man who gives a hundred dollars. All along the men who have handled this part of the Democratic campaign have operated on the principle that the small contribution is just as important in a way as the large one. Every individual contribution, they say, represents a vote. Often it represents more than a single vote, because the contributor by making his donation naturally feels that he has become a partner in the enterprise, and, therefore, that it is incumbent on him to get out and hustle for the party.

The most gratifying thing in connection with this campaign, in so far as the Democratic managers are concerned, is the fact that Governor Wilson's election, if he is elected, will have been made effective by the people's dollars. Heretofore, it is notorious that the expenses of the campaigns of the big parties have been paid by a comparatively small number of men—probably less than a thousand. Mr. Bryan's campaign four years ago was an exception to this rule. The list of contributors kept at Democratic Headquarters this year demonstrates that more than 100,000 citizens will have participated in the financing of Governor Wilson's campaign for the Presidency.

GOING TO WILSON.

Experience of a Railroad Brakeman—The Reber Tariff.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—J. F. Mills, of Shreveport, La., who is a brakeman on the Kansas City Southern Railroad, has made a contribution to Governor Woodrow Wilson's popular campaign fund that has placed him ahead of all others who so far have given financial assistance in behalf of the Democratic ticket this year.

Mr. Mills turned over to the National Committee his entire month's pay check as brakeman, amounting to $76.87. Colonel Robert Ewing, Chairman of the Press Contributions Bureau, at Democratic Headquarters in the Kopen Building, declared today that for pure unadulterated devotion to Democracy the act of Mr. Mills surpasses anything that has come under his notice during the entire campaign. It is doubtful if there is another individual in the United States who has contributed as much to any campaign fund, proportionate to his income. Mr. Mills offered his contribution in person to the editor of the Shreveport Times. It was suggested to him that he was giving more than his share. "Nevertheless," said he, "it is my wish."

Then he added, "I believe my check would have been larger, if it were not for the tariff."

Four years ago Mr. Mills based his contribution to the Bryan fund on the number of years he had lived, giving a dollar for each birthday that he had enjoyed. In this campaign he has done even better than that. He has given one-twelfth of his year's wages.

THE PEOPLE WANT JUDGE WALTER CLARK FOR U. S. SENATOR

Answering your query in a breath: I think there is none other so good.
H. D. MOORE, Currie, N. C.

After hearing Judge Clark speak, I became convinced that he is the man who ought to go to the U. S. Senate. Rev. Dr. D. HUFHAM.

I will vote for Judge Clark because he represents in every particular the high ideals of a public servant, and the people's cause is safe in his hands.
A. S. HOLDEN.

I am for Judge Clark because the political machine and the vested interests are against him, and because he is a true champion of the people's rights.
J. C. KING.

I shall support Judge Clark for the U. S. Senate because I think he is eminently qualified in every particular, and I like his platform.
E. H. MUNSON.

He meets my highest ideal of the public man. Consistent, conscientious, courageous, striving to make the law what it should be—a protection to the weak.
O. W. STYRON, Currie, N. C.

It would be just as safe to try to feed a rattlesnake out of a short-handled spoon as for the "Special Interests" to even try to get into communication with Senator Walter Clark!
Hon. CYRUS B. WATSON.

My reasons for wanting Judge Clark elected to the U. S. Senate are too numerous to mention, but I will say that I endorse his platform, and I know him well enough to know that he will stand on it after election, as well as before.
A. H. PADDISON, Burgaw, N. C.

The battle in American political life is the selfish criminal Special Interests on one side and the cause of the people and justice on the other side. Walter Clark is for the people, and for that reason every corrupt influence in politics is against him. Where are you? For him or against him?
Hon. JAMES A. LOCKHART.

The man who wins in 1912, regardless of party, must not only be an advocate of the Bryan policies to which the people have been educated, but he must be an embodiment of the same. A recommended candidate will not do next time; one of them we happen to know most assuredly does, viz.: Judge Walter Clark, of North Carolina.
WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S COMMONER.

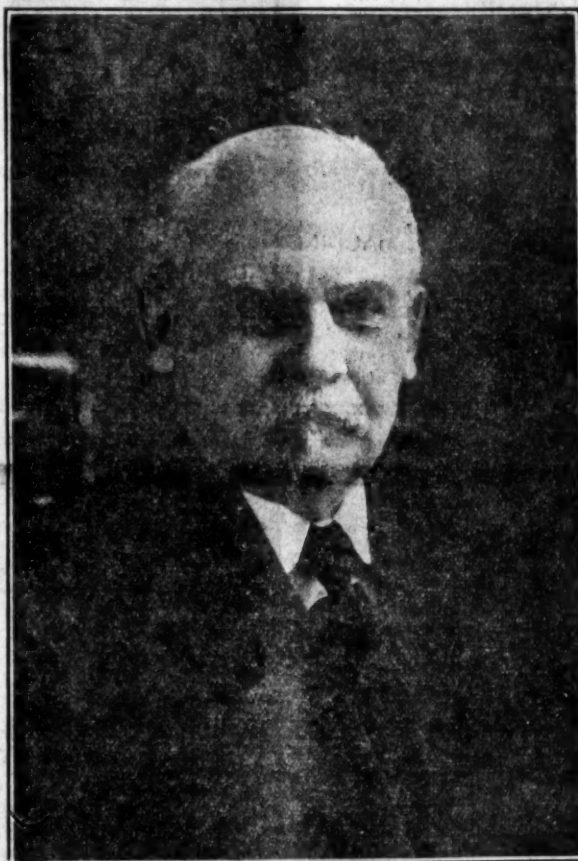

As one of the highest public officials of the State, he has for years zealously fought for and guarded the interests of the plain people. His progressive ideas and works are known throughout the length and breadth of this country, and by his judicial opinions these ideas and works have become interwoven into the common law of our State. He now seeks, in the Senate of the United States, a broader field for his efforts. The field is in sore need of such a man.
CHAS. C. LOUGHLIN.

I am for Judge Walter Clark because he is, unlike his two opponents, not merely fighting for the possession of a plum, but because he has shown to the people of North Carolina how the intriguing political machine in league with sinister corporate influences has fastened upon our State a condition that has dwarfed its progress. Because he has shown the people how these matters can be remedied, and because he offers himself as the medium to bring about the necessary changes. He is the candidate of a platform and a definite programme, and the man who will fulfill his promises.

(Advertisement.)

HIS PLATFORM

1. Adequate and unequivocal legislation that will destroy the Trusts.
2. A tariff for revenue only. Protection I levies tribute in favor of a class, upon all other classes. It is unjust and undemocratic.
3. Election of U. S. Senators and U. S. judges by the people.
4. Election of postmasters by the people of each locality.
5. The adoption of the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall, the latter for such officers, State, county or town, as may be designated by law.
6. Statewide primaries for U. S. Senators and all State officers.
7. A parcels post for the country districts.
8. Public regulation of railroads and other common carriers, but operation of the telegraph and telephones by the postoffice, as in all other countries. This will give lower rates to the public, with shorter hours and better pay to the employees.
9. Extension of public schools and good roads.
10. Enforcement of the laws regulating hours of labor, prohibiting child labor, and requiring safety appliances.
11. The destruction of corrupt methods by strict restriction of the purposes and amounts for which candidates, or others for them, can expend money at elections and in primaries, and full publicity of all such expenses, before and after each primary and election.
12. Putting Confederate soldiers on the U. S. Pension Lists, not only in justice to them, but to stop the financial drain from the South, which has already paid to Federal pensions more than the war indemnity which France paid to Germany.
13. Execution in good faith after election of all pledges made before.

JUDGE WALTER CLARK.

FARMERS FOR CLARK

To the Democratic Voters of North Carolina:
We the undersigned farmers of Pitt county beg leave of a short space in your valuable paper, the Old Reliable, to request our brother voters throughout the State to support for the United States Senate that great individual thinker and progressive, Chief Justice Clark.
Judge Clark's twenty-odd years' consistent record on the Bench has shown the people whose friend he is, and they need no further guarantee of his fidelity to them in all conflicts between their rights and the Special Interests. Being a staunch progressive, Judge Clark is not afraid to assert his faith in progressive Democratic policies as he has done for the past twenty years. He believes that the people, the real governing power, should know just where those who seek to serve them stand on all great public questions. Therefore he announces himself in a platform for the consideration of all of the people, and does not ask your support unless you are progressive and believe in the progressive policies, for if sent to the Senate he will stand by his promises and fight for his principles.
The fight is on and we appeal to every thinking Democrat in North Carolina to support Judge Walter Clark for the Senate.
Respectfully,
J. F. Stokes, H. A. Timberlake, L. F. Evans, M. T. Speer, J. J. Satterthwaite, J. P. Fleming, J. R. Davenport, W. B. Albritton, A. A. Forbes, J. Marshall Cox, J. J. Ellis, C. D. Smith, S. V. Judge Clark's fitness and efficiency for U. S. Senator cannot be questioned.
J. A. McNORTON.

Judge Clark's past reputation ought to be sufficient to make every man in the State vote for him.
E. A. HERBST.

Judge Clark seems to be more progressive than the other two candidates, and more in line with the policies of Woodrow Wilson. He will get my vote.
W. A. McGOWAN.

Judge Clark offers a positive solution of the questions concerning the welfare of the people of this State, and, therefore, I shall vote for him.
C. HUBERT BELVIN.

My principal reason for voting for Judge Clark is that the State owes him a great debt, and we now have the opportunity, and we ought to pay up.
W. L. NUNNALLY, Currie, N. C.

"Walter Clark in the Senate will be as he has been on the Bench — irreproachable by the people and unapproachable by the enemies of the people."
CY. WATSON."

Judge Clark is not a mere theorist. He never had a theory about government that his mind did not work out some tangible and definite plan to put it into practice.
(Senator) Q. K. NIMOCKS.

"The certain thing about all of them and everybody mixed up with the Trusts, is that they would prefer any man to Walter Clark as Senator from North Carolina, because they fear him and his indomitable courage and devotion to the people."
(Hon.) H. S. WARD."

Clark, aside from this main consideration, is the greatest living North Carolinian. He would give the State a prestige in the Nation such as it had in the days of Ransom and Vance, or before the war, in the days of Badger and Mangum.
H. A. BANKS (Hickory Democrat.)

Judge Clark's capacity for arduous work is prodigious, as displayed in the host of details involved in professional duties. The clamor of self-seeking partisans, corporate influences, or the antagonism of unfriendly forces have never caused him to swerve from a path of conduct definitely outlined by his broad sympathies, strong integrity, and lofty sense of justice.
D. P. WATERS, (Carolina Democrat.)

In his candidacy for the U. S. Senate, Judge Clark is entitled to the support of the business, laboring and thoughtful elements of our citizenship. As a scholar, jurist, as well as friend of the laboring man, Judge Clark has long been recognized. If elected to the U. S. Senate, he will look after the interests of the people of this State with the same untiring effort, zeal and success, that has attended his long service upon the Supreme Court bench of North Carolina.
W. F. JONES.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I Beg to Anounce to the Public That I Have Opened An Office for the Conduct of a General Real Estate and Investment Business at 709 Princess St., Wilmington, N. C., and Respectfully Solicit Your Patronage.

Inasmuch, as I cannot see and speak to each of the people personally, with whom I wish to do business, this is the best means of "getting acquainted", and at the same time, setting forth, in a general way, my methods, ideas and intentions with which, as a basis, I solicit such share of your patronage as it may be my good fortune to be favored with, and assure you in advance that the same will be appreciated and have my most careful and painstaking attention to its minutest details.

My business will be divided, as the name implies, into two parts: A Real Estate Business and an Investment Business. I have had extensive experience in these lines in many parts of the country and also have sufficient connections of prominence and financial strength in America as well as in Europe, to enlist in propositions and investments that are deserving. This gives me the widest range, the greatest market and the most extensive facilities for the handling of any transaction in which I engage.

IN ALL MY BUSINESSES THE MAXIMS: "LIVE AND LET LIVE", "THE SQUARE DEAL TO ALL", and "SATISFACTION GUARANTEED" ARE PARAMOUNT and I ask the public to Make Me Prove It!

Concerning the real estate business, I wish to say that it has been my endeavor to eliminate certain undesirable features often found in real estate offices, and add desirable ones only too often lacking. This branch of my business will principally consist, as usual, of the selling, mortgaging and renting of properties, for which a commission is charged, and the purchase of properties and placing loans for and renting to clients for which no charge is made. I also prepare all legal and real estate papers, examine titles, act as mutual settlement agent, etc., for which services I make no charge when desired in transactions consummated through me. For the sale of properties, I make the customary charges of five per centum for country properties and two and one-half per centum for city and suburban properties, figured as usual, on the total gross sale price, including any encumbrances subject to which the property may be sold. The same for the procuring of loans on such properties, depending on the time the loan is to run. For the management and renting of properties, I charge five per centum commission on the total gross rents collected—only city and suburban properties handled for rent.

NO LISTING OF PROPERTIES WILL RECEIVE ATTENTION WHERE THE PRICE IS EXCESSIVE, OR THE RENT DEMANDED UNREASONABLE, OR, IN CASE OF LOANS WANTED, THE SECURITY IS NOT AMPLE.

No property listed for sale valued at less than $1,000.00 (except unimproved lots); no real estate loan negotiated for less than $500.00; and no rental accounts accepted where the total gross rents collected per month are less than $25.00 per month or $300.00 per year. The reason for these restrictions is simply that I handle only "high class" properties, in a "high class" and expensive manner, for a "high class" clientele, which does not permit me to give valuable time and attention to a class of trade to which I find it most profitable and satisfactory to myself and clients not to cater.

All properties, etc., listed with me, are extensively advertised locally and elsewhere, free of charge to my customers. I don't take a listing and wait for a customer to come to my office—I GO OUT AND GET HIM!

My rental business consists, as usual, in the handling of properties and estates. If desired, I handle the same completely, i.e., not only rent the properties and collect the rents, but also manage the same, pay all expenses and look after them the same as the owner. For this service no extra charge is made, nor do I make extra charge for rent collections that are made by collectors. I give properties placed with me for management the same attention as my own; tenants are selected with the utmost care; expenses are kept at a minimum as far as consistent with the best interest of the property; and prompt attention is given to the collection of the rents.

The loan branch of my business is, of course, handling the accounts of parties desiring to invest money in good real estate loans, and those who desire to encumber properties. I also generally have on hand "A Number One" out of town real estate notes, concerning which I am glad to give information to parties interested. It is of equal interest to all parties, to know that NO LOAN PLACED BY ME HAS EVER BEEN FORECLOSED. This means that I place my loans with a maximum of care, conservatism and watchfulness, not only as to the property loaned on but also the borrower himself, and that at the maturity of a loan the same being always conservative, allowing such a margin of safety that there is no trouble to raise the same elsewhere if the owner does not wish to pay it off, or if necessary I carry the loan myself. I will endorse and guarantee any loan placed by me, for the customary fee of one-tenth of one per centum, no fee less than $5.00. No charge to lenders for the collection of the principal or interest of their investments through me. All loans placed by me, are made by the "deed of trust" form, eliminating entirely the antiquated and cumbersome "mortgage" form, though, of course, if the lender of money prefers the latter the same will be used. No second trust whatsoever handled, except as deferred purchase money.

I make a specialty of the business of ladies. Many ladies find it not only inconvenient, disagreeable and unsatisfactory to handle their properties and investment matters in person, but also risky. The benefit of expert advice and information furnished all clients in such matters gratuitously. It is wiser to seek information and advice concerning the investment of your money before the same is jeopardized or lost, than to afterwards do so to see what can be done to save it.

You can speak or write to us in English, French or German.

One of my specialties is the sub-dividing and placing on the market of tracts of land, and consultation in these matters is especially invited. If you have lots that don't seem to sell, let me take them in hand and you will soon note a change for the better.

The Investment Business, as conducted by me, not covered by the real estate branch of my business, consists of the buying, selling and hypothecating of securities anywhere, listed or unlisted, local, out of State or European—no "Wild Cat" propositions considered. No marginal or speculative accounts or transactions for securities to a net total amount of less than $100.00 handled. My specialty in this branch of the business is the forming of corporations and placing of their securities.

If you have any real estate or investment troubles, come when convenient. I can be reached at or through my office any time of the day or night, the year round, except legal holidays and Sundays. "We never sleep". Shall be glad to have you come in and "talk it over."

I wish to call attention to the fact that in all transactions concluded through me there is no delay in settlement. I make immediate settlements always.

Watch the papers for my advertisements—there will be some bargains for the people who do things quick. Opportunity has no time to wait for the fellow who is slow and takes the time to make up his mind that the other one uses to avail himself of the chance.

In conclusion, after asking pardon for this long dissertation, I wish to state that I have "THE ONLY REAL ESTATE AND INVESTMENT OFFICE UPTOWN." I am a pioneer in this field, and you do not now have to go down town to attend to your real estate and investment matters. Furthermore, the Belt, Beach and Carolina cars stop in front of my office, and all customers who use cars to come to my office are invited to help themselves to a plentiful supply of car tickets always to be found there. I decided upon this location uptown, for the reason firstly, that it was impossible to get one suitable down town, and I preferred to be alone here to being merely one of many down town. Business, in my opinion, will come to the man that makes good, regardless of where he is located.

Wilmington, in my opinion, has a great future. The opening of the Panama Canal will tremendously increase the business and prosperity of every Southern seaport, and it is the duty of every citizen of this city, by broad-minded, wide-awake, pro- and aggressive methods to direct a great share of this prosperity here. The future is favorable, and therefore I have come to make my home and build up a business here.

This advertisement does not read as such. I don't want it to do so. It is intended as a personal letter, a personal message to every reader, as an introduction of myself and intentions and a cordial invitation to come into my office any time and "get acquainted." It has been my endeavor herein to set forth to the public as concisely as possible my aims and methods of doing business and submit this bid for your patronage with the assurance that I will not fail to "make good" with any business entrusted to me.

Yours, For Business,

HERBERT MAASS

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David H. Reeder, Chicago, Illinois.

Whooping Cough.—This disease, which is peculiar to childhood, is divided into three stages, for convenience. First, or incubation, period, is the period between exposure and full development of the symptoms. This may last from a few days to two weeks. Second stage is the period of full development of the disease; duration of which one to two weeks; and even longer. Third stage is that of convalescence, and may extend over a period of several weeks. If the disease is contracted in the Fall, the child may continue to cough throughout the winter months. The complications are many. Some of the more severe ones are: Broncho-pneumonia, convulsions, pleurisy, tuberculosis, acute inflammation of the kidneys and rupture.

Whooping cough is a much more dangerous disease than is generally supposed. Unproper management complications may arise which are very distressing and at times ruinous to the child's future health, or may cause the wreck of some special function. Of children under one year it is estimated that 25 die, between one and two, 15 per cent. It is infinitely better to prevent the disease by avoiding exposure or when exposed by instituting absorptive treatment, than to allow it to become fully developed. If whooping cough is prevalent in the neighborhood, the following is a great preventive treatment: Give to children under twelve years of age 6 X. tablets of Ferrum Phos. and Kali Mur., one to three tablets of each, depending upon the age of the child, four times daily. See to it that their bowels are acting normally, and prevent them from eating pastries and rich, heavy foods.

The first stage is more catarrhal than otherwise, the onset being similar to that of a common cold or acute catarrh, such as sneezing, watery eyes, slight fever and chilliness, indisposition

Miss Sophia Singer, an attractive Baltimore girl, was murdered in Chicago yesterday, having eloped there for the purpose of getting married today.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland authorized the announcement last night of her engagement to Thomas Joseph Preston, of the faculty of Wells College.

Gov. Wilson spent yesterday campaigning in New Jersey and in three speeches filled with satirical attacks on his opponents, emphasized he was not a believer in free trade.

George G. Thompson, division freight agent for the Southern Railway, with headquarters at Greensboro, was shot and killed yesterday by William F. Blair, chief clerk in his office, who tried to kill himself.

According to yesterday's dispatches a decisive battle is being waged between the Turkish forces and the Balkan allies, the fate of Turkey depending on the outcome. It is not known just where the engagement is taking place.

Charles Becker, convicted for the murder of Rosenthal, the gambler, will be sentenced today and will shortly be carried to Sing Sing prison. Wm. Shapiro, driver of the "murder car," made a complete confession yesterday.

The condition of Vice President Sherman was unchanged yesterday. He seemed better in the morning, but suffered a relapse later in the day. No attempt was made by his physician or family to minimize the seriousness of his malady, all agreeing his condition is grave.

New York markets: Money on call strong, 4 3/4 per cent; ruling rate 5 1/2; closing bid 5 1/4; offered at 5 1/2. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour quiet. Wheat, easy; No. 2 red 1.07 and 1.08. Corn, easy. Turpentine steady, machine barrels 42 1/2. Rosin steady.

THURSDAY

Five Sisters of Charity gave their lives to save their charges in a fire which destroyed the St. John's Orphanage at San Antonio, Texas, yesterday.

The super-dreadnaught, greatest of the world's sea fighters, was launched at the New York Navy Yard yesterday.

Testimony that the International Harvester Company paid $8,000 to defeat a bill in the Kansas Legislature designed to prohibit the using of an "exclusive agent" clause, was introduced at the hearing of the government's dissolution suit yesterday.

After gradually falling all day Vice President Sherman died last night at 9:42 o'clock from Bright's disease. His decline dated from August 21st, when he was formally notified of his re-nomination by the Republican convention.

Former Police Lieutenant Becker was carried to Sing Sing prison yesterday under sentence to die in the electric chair during the week of Dec. 9th.

Gov. Wilson yesterday spoke in several New Jersey towns for the State ticket and appealed to his people to send Democrats to the Legislature to insure the election of a Democratic Senator.

A crowd that jammed Madison Square Garden from floor to roof and overflowed through three blocks of surrounding streets, greeted the leaders of the Progressive party last night at the mass meeting marking the first appearance of Roosevelt since the attack made on him in Milwaukee.

New York markets: Money on call strong, 5 1/4 to 6 per cent; ruling rate 5 3/4; closing bid 5 1/2; offered at 5 3/4. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour quiet. Wheat weak; No. 2 red 1.06. Corn weak; export 59. Turpentine and rosin quiet.

tion and frequent coughing. Treatment in this stage, if carefully and sensibly given, will generally ward off a severe attack. The patient should be seasonably dressed, especially the feet should be kept warm and dry. After a dilute vinegar bath and a good rubbing with olive oil or almond oil, put the child in bed and apply dry heat to the feet. Give a cup of hot ginger tea to which has been added a grain of cayenne pepper. To relieve the paroxysm of coughing, give from the 12-tissue element (obtained in the Homeopathic drug store), Kali Mur., or Nat. Mur., or both, in tablet form, of the sixth trituration, two to four tablets, according to the age of the child, six times daily. Another good Home Health Club treatment, which will often bring great relief, is the following:

Chestnut leaves, ... 2oz.
Black Cohosh, ... 1oz.
Lobelia Herb, ... 1/2oz.
Pour over this a pint of boiling water and let it steep for half an hour and then add two pounds of sugar. Dose: One teaspoonful every hour, and more frequently during the coughing period.

The second stage—if it has not been turned aside—is extremely distressing to the child and alarming to the inexperienced attendants. It is in this stage that the child is seized with violent expirations, followed by a rush of air into the lungs, producing the characteristic, prolonged "whooping." The paroxysms are very weak, ending, putting the heart, blood vessels and whole muscular system on a severe strain. At times, it seems as if the child will suffocate, but this lasts only a short time, at most, then suddenly disappears. The paroxysm may be followed by expectorations of mucus, vomiting and the evacuation of bladder and bowels. This stage of the disease, if successfully handled lasts about ten days and must run its course.

The name treatment as administered in the first stage, is about all that can be done. The diet should be very plain and nutritious.

The third stage is only that of convalescence, but it is a critical period. Care at eating and exposure must be

FRIDAY.

Supplemental reports of campaign contributions and expenditures filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives yesterday show that the Democratic fund to date amounts to $815,052 and the Republican $744,688.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the funeral services of the late Vice President Sherman and they will be held at Utica Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. President Taft, the Senate, justices of the Supreme Court and other dignitaries will attend.

The four-days' battle in Thrace ended yesterday with the complete defeat of the Turkish army of 200,000 men. The Turks retreated and Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the invading forces. The Turkish ministers are about ready to sue for peace and it is thought the victory of the allied forces practically ends the Balkan war.

Gov. Wilson addressed a Democratic rally in the Bronx last night and spoke to thousands of voters at Madison Square Garden, where he was given a great reception. He answered the charges of his opponents in regard to fearing a discontinuance of prosperity by calling their attention to the betting odds in Wall Street.

The Conways, wanted in connection with the murder of Miss Sophia Singer in Chicago, were apprehended yesterday at Lima, Ohio. Both claim they knew nothing of the murder but they read the papers at Rochester, Ind.

John J. McNamara plotted to "get" W. J. Burns and Walter Drew, since he has been in prison, according to evidence offered at the "dynamite trial" yesterday.

New York markets: Money on call very strong, 5 3/4 to 7 3/4 per cent; ruling rate 5 3/4 to 8 1/2; closing bid 6 1/2; offered at 7. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour steady. Wheat, steady; No. 2 red 1.06 and 1.07. Corn steady, 58 1/4. Rosin steady. Turpentine steady; machine barrels 42.

SATURDAY.

Colonel Roosevelt addressed a second Progressive rally in Madison Square Garden last night which was held for the benefit of the State ticket.

Mrs. Beatrice Ryall Conway practically admitted her husband killed Miss Sophia Singer in Chicago a few days ago, when she was given the "third degree" yesterday.

Utica paid tribute yesterday to the memory of James S. Sherman and thousands gazed on his body for the last time as it lay in state at the Onondaga county Court House.

Wm. A. Vincent, an attorney, yesterday told at the hearing of the Harvester Trust suit how the International Harvester Co. acquired the property of the Aultman & Miller Co.

According to dispatches from Nazim Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish army, the Bulgarians were signally defeated yesterday and the Turkish forces recaptured Bunarhisar.

Governor Wilson invaded the Republican stronghold of Rochester, N. Y., yesterday and was heartily received. He declared the U. S. Senate was a citadel of special interest and explained fully his views on the trusts.

At the request of Gov. Wilson the Democratic parade scheduled for New York today has been cancelled out of respect to the memory of the late Vice President Sherman. Observances of Wilson Day throughout the country will take place as arranged.

New York markets: Money on call strong, 6 to 9 per cent; ruling rate 8; closing bid 6; offered at 6 1/2. Spot cotton closed steady. Flour quiet. Wheat; No. 2 red 1.05 to 1.06. Corn 57 1/4. Turpentine quiet. Rosin steady.

taken to avoid complications that are always apt to arise, because of the weakened condition which the whooping cough has superinduced.

CLUB NOTES:

Arkansas City.
Dear Doctor:—I have been afflicted with throat trouble for many years, and have been thinking for some time that you might be able to help me. Took treatment from your family physician about two years ago for a very short time, when he left here; since then I've done nothing.

He said that the uvula was greatly enlarged, the tonsils in an inflamed condition and the vocal chords permanently affected. The two former conditions he expected to relieve by medicines, although he said an operation was not improbable.

My voice is weak and thin, rather effeminate. He said it would never be any stronger. At times my voice almost fails me entirely, and most of the time it tires me to talk to any great extent. I am 22 years of age and in good health. The doctor pronounced my lungs sound.

Is there any treatment that would tend to strengthen or deepen the voice; also that would relieve the other difficulties? I am anxious to avoid a surgical operation, although I would undergo much if the desired results could be obtained in no other way. Would appreciate an answer.

P. V. B.
Your trouble could be one of three things: Tuberculosis, a bony lesion in the neck interfering with the nerve supply to the larynx and vocal chords, or it may be due to arrested sexual development, making the voice thin and effeminate. I would not advise you to resort to surgery yet. I am writing you a personal letter, so as to find out your exact condition before advising you further.

All readers of this publication are at liberty at all times to write for information pertaining to the subject of health. Address all communications to the Home Health Club, 5039 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, Ill. U. S. A., with name and address in full, and at least four cents in stamps.

Fine Remedy for A Backward Child

Continue it for a Brief Period and the Good Results Will Surprise You.

A low state of the general health is now the accepted cause of backwardness in children. So in the case of a backward child it is best to look towards building up its health. It will usually be found that the main trouble is in the food, in lack of assimilation and digestion. Hence care should be taken in the kind of food given to the child. This, with plenty of air and exercise, should bring about a change for the better.

Watch the condition of the bowels, to note whether the waste is being passed off, or not, or whether it is being passed too freely. If either condition prevails give a small dose of that gentlest of all laxative-tonics, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers will testify to the wonders it has wrought in the lives of their own children, and for that reason legions of families like those of Mr. D. C. Head, Mgr. Head Drug Co., Ft. Worth, Tex., father of Clarence Carroll Head, and Mrs. Susan Brewer, Doyle, La., are never without it in the house. It is pleasant to the taste and so perfectly safe that it is given to infants and yet is equally effective for grown people. All druggists sell it and the price is only five cents for one dollar a bottle (the latter for families who need it regularly).

Syrup Pepsin has no equal as a cure for constipation, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, liver trouble and kindred complaints. It has no many advantages that those who once use it forever after discard cathartics, salts, pills and other coarse remedies, for they are seldom advisable and should never be given to children.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 414 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

You'll be proud of a nice sitting room

Dear Amy:—

Every home should have a cozy sitting room, where the whole family can get away from the dining room dishes and spend a jolly evening.

The sitting room is the real center of the home, and no woman should neglect furnishing it. For the sitting room, substantial furniture is best, because it gets so much wear.

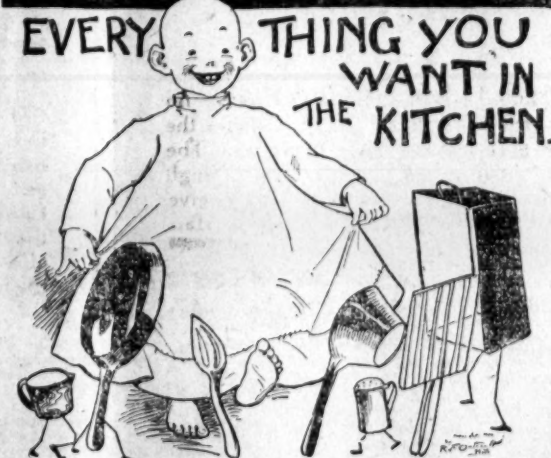

Be good.
P. S.—You can buy substantial furniture that will last a lifetime and for a reasonable price, if you go to

SUNSET PARK

Notice that electric car?

That's the Greenfield-Sunset Park car of the Wilmington street car lines of the Tidewater Power Company—running into SUNSET PARK, and operating on a rapid schedule—WITHIN NINETY DAYS FROM TODAY.

WE GUARANTEE this service, and make it a condition of every lot we sell.

Do you think we would, or could, make this promise and guarantee if we didn't KNOW we were going to have this service? No!

Every lot in SUNSET PARK will advance in value at least $100 when this street car service is established. The question right now is, are you going to make that $100 Profit, or your neighbor, or this company? Why not YOU?

The timid ones, the doubters, the procrastinators, will postpone their purchase until after the street car line is established—and thereby LOSE the first SURE profit on their purchase. The intelligent investor will INVESTIGATE our reasons for the assurance of street car service, will read our binding guarantee, will get at the real FACTS—and will then BUY AT ONCE, without further doubt or hesitation.

Here is What All Our Contracts Guarantee.

(1) That street car line and service connecting with the city of Wilmington will be extended to SUNSET PARK within four months from this date.

(2) That the privilege of connecting with the sewerage and water system of SUNSET PARK shall be furnished to residents without charge, and that residents shall have the right to use this said sewerage and water system free of charge for a period of five years from this date.

(3) That the company will pay all taxes on said lots until deed is made for the same.

(4) That an efficient gas and electric lighting system and telephone system shall be extended to SUNSET PARK.

(5) That a system of granolithic sidewalks four feet in width shall be constructed along the principal streets of SUNSET PARK.

We don't ask you to take our word alone for these improvements and privileges. We absolutely GUARANTEE them in the contract we issue to you. You hold this contract yourself, and you know we are CERTAIN to fulfill our guarantee.

You are not dealing with an irresponsible individual, but with a strong corporation, incorporated under the laws of the State of North Carolina, its officers and stockholders all being men of high financial and business standing in the State, a company with a paid in capital of $100,000, and a surplus of $100,000—and thoroughly responsible for its every obligation.

We are really desirous that every lot-buyer shall have every penny of profit which will accrue on his purchase, because of the improvements now under way—but IMMEDIATE action is the ONLY method of accomplishing those results.

Therefore, we say to every one who is interested in the purchase of one or more lots in SUNSET PARK: GO out, SELECT your lot, READ our guaranteed contract; ARRANGE terms to suit you—and DO IT NOW!

ABOUT DIPHTHERIA

What It Is, How to Detect It, and What To Do

Diphtheria is a dangerous communicable disease. It is more prevalent in cold weather than in Summer. This is because it is highly contagious and because in Winter we lock ourselves up close in air-tight houses, school-rooms and churches, where it is more easily transmitted. Diphtheria is caused by a specific germ propagated in the human body. The disease is harbored in filth and usually transmitted through air, water, milk, food, clothing, by means of playthings, etc.

The disease usually affects the throat, but it may spread to the mouth or nose. The first indications of diphtheria are sore throat, loss of appetite, headache, feverish, hot, dry skin, soreness and swelling at the angle of the jaw, and, frequently, profuse secretions with offensive odors. A white coating or membrane in the back part of the mouth and throat is almost positive proof of diphtheria.

When children evidence some of the above symptoms it is as ordinary "sore throat," tonsillitis, or laryngitis. Find out about it by calling in your family doctor. Failure to recognize diphtheria early often results fatally or becomes the cause of extensive epidemics. As soon as diphtheria is discovered, the health officer should be advised, in order that he may be on the alert to forestall an epidemic among others who have been exposed.

The generally recognized method of treating diphtheria is by means of antitoxin. Antitoxin is also administered in small doses as a preventive to those who have been exposed to the disease. The law requires the State Board of Health to arrange for the distribution of diphtheria antitoxin from a number of points throughout the State, where physicians can obtain it without paying the outrageous prices charged a few years ago. Formerly the smallest dose cost some times $2 or $3. Now it can be obtained through the State Board of Health for 50 cents. This is the best price obtainable from the manufacturers, though it really costs only about 10 cents to make it. It is hoped that the next Legislature will see its way clear to require the State Board of Health to make a reliable antitoxin and distribute it free to all cases in the State. Such action is not only a wise business investment, but innumerable cases, deaths and epidemics of diphtheria would be prevented.

Precautions About Diphtheria
The chief thing to remember is that diphtheria is highly contagious. It is wise, therefore, to treat bad cases of tonsillitis and other sore throat as suspected cases of diphtheria. You should be careful about catching the breath of the patient. The patient should be kept in a room with only such furniture as is necessary for his care and comfort. He should not be allowed to handle books or toys. Those which he handled prior to the time it was determined that he had the disease should be burned. Such disinfectants as the doctor orders, should be rigidly used, and only those who are caring for the patient should be permitted to enter the room.

Diphtheria poison may retain its virulence for a long time and may be carried long distances in articles which have been allowed to remain in a room in which a diphtheria patient has been cared for.—Dr. Evans.

FROM FAIR KINSTON

Youthful Check Swindler — Newbern Fair and Simmons Rally (Special Star Correspondence.)
Kinston, N. C., Nov. 1.—Charles Chamberlain, a 17-year-old boy, of Greene county, was bound over to Superior Court after a hearing before the mayor, for stealing a check from the Central Tobacco Warehouse here. The check, which was made out to two tobacco farmers, was for $194.16. Chamberlain helped the farmers unload their wagons at the warehouse, and watching his chance, stole the check which was to cover their sale from a pigeonhole in the office. Pres. Wooten, of the warehouse staff, wrote the check and placed it in the pigeonhole with the bill until the planters should call for settlement. Shortly after making it out he had occasion to refer to the papers again, and found that it was gone. He immediately hastened to trace it, and caught the negro as he was trying to have it cashed at the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. The boy had secured the check without entering the office, the pigeonhole in which it was placed being easily accessible from the kitchen. In mayor's court Chamberlain told such an incoherent story that the suspicion of the officers were directed to him for participation in a robbery here recently. This was the second tobacco check theft here this season, a large order having been taken from the Eagle Warehouse several weeks ago, the white man who secured it escaping after having it cashed at a bank.

W. H. Creech has sold a fine farm near Glenfield to B. B. Sugg, the consideration being $8,500. There are 200 acres in the tract. Mr. Creech has bought from the Hines Bros. Lumber Company another valuable tract, the Jackson farm near Hookerton, the recent property of Mrs. Mary Jackson, of this city. This farm was sold by Mrs. Jackson and the proceeds donated to the Methodist orphanage at Raleigh for the erection of a dormitory.

Nearly 1,000 tickets were sold to Newbern from this point yesterday on two trains, the Eastern Carolina Fair and the Simmons rally in that city having been the drawing attractions. The ticket window in the Norfolk Southern depot was opened two hours earlier than usual, and even then great difficulty was experienced in serving the crush of the crowd at train time. Two special trains were operated, in the morning and late in the evening. The crowds from here were greatly swelled by large numbers who came in from Pink Hill and Snow Hill and intermediate points.

A Final Word for Senator Simmons

To the Democratic Voters of North Carolina:

I have not doubted the result of this contest from the time I felt the first touch of the warmth of enthusiasm of the supporters of Senator Simmons from every section of the State.

The response of patriotic North Carolina Democrats, in their zeal for a plain Democrat under fire, who in the absence of any patronage machine has had no other appeal than to their intelligence and patriotism, has reached the heights of real grandeur.

Senator Simmons has at no point underestimated the intelligence of his constituency. Whether in overalls or in college halls the people of North Carolina constitute a self-governing State the equal of any on the globe, and his whole course has been shaped with reliance upon their sound intelligence and patriotism, and the attacks upon him have fallen short because they have been aimed below this level.

To those who have through the months of the fight had their shoulders to the wheel: The end of all our labor is now practically confined to one day's work for a decisive victory. Let's give one full day to Wilson, Craig and Simmons. So far as we can, let's see that no Democrat fails to participate in this great victory. The character of campaign through which we have passed leads me to suggest, also, that careful attention be given to the final misrepresentations that may be passed around on election day. Our opponents have been overwhelmed with answer to every charge that has been brought out in full view, and I feel that I have the right to ask every patriotic citizen of the State, whether a supporter of Senator Simmons or not, to stamp out any effort to mislead voters at the last minute with any charges that his opponents have not dared to bring out in the open in the months the campaign has been in progress.

To those who have not yet decided to vote for Senator Simmons I wish to address two questions to their judgment and their conscience as patriotic Democrats and patriotic North Carolinians:

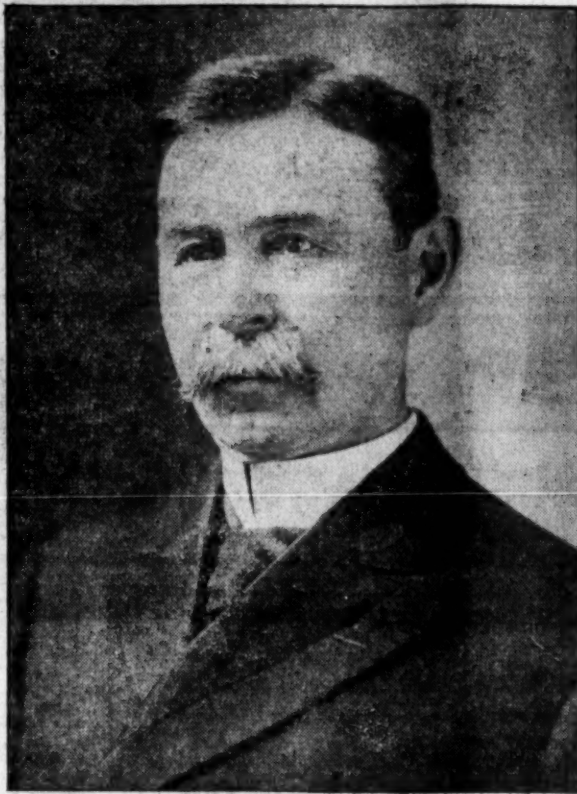

In all probability the Democratic party, under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, will on Tuesday acquire all the responsibilities of government in each of its three political branches, after sixteen years of defeat. Can you afford as a National Democrat to vote to displace at this crisis in the party's history one of its best equipped and seasoned leaders in the Senate—one who is in perfect accord with and whose experience and ability would be a pillar of strength to the administration of Woodrow Wilson?

Can you, as a North Carolinian, in good conscience, vote to throw away the prestige that Senator Simmons has acquired by diligent labor, and by seniority of service that would make him a leader of the greatest governing body in the world, and willingly see the laurels he has won given to another and this great honor go to some other State?

The fight has been clearly won. Let's make it a DECISIVE SINGLE PRIMARY VICTORY!

Yours for one more day's work,

SAM. L. ROGERS, Manager Simmons' Campaign.

SENATOR SIMMONS AND RATE REGULATION

Judge Clark Attacks the Strongest Point in the Simmons Armor.

Chief Justice Clark has by advertisement in a number of papers recently attacked the record of Senator Simmons on railroad freight regulation. In this the Chief Justice has strangely enough picked out the strongest point in the Simmons armor for attack—for it is in this line that the most notable achievement in the interest of the people of his twelve years in the Senate was made, and the attack on this makes it pertinent to give the facts.

The Clark Headquarters are advertising:

"ON MAY 13TH, 1910, MR. SIMMONS VOTED AGAINST A BILL TO PROHIBIT FREIGHT DISCRIMINATIONS, AND TO SEND THE MATTER TO THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION WHICH HAD HERETOFORE DONE NOTHING FOR OUR RELIEF AND WHICH HAS DONE NOTHING SINCE."

The above statement is inaccurate and misleading. Senator Heyburn proposed an amendment to the railroad rate law substantially providing that under no circumstances should there be a less charge for a long haul than for a short haul. That proposition could not pass. It had only about a dozen supporters out of ninety-two Senators. The administration Republicans opposed any change in the law. The Insurgents and Democrats were not opposed to a change, but there were many differences of opinion as to what change should be made. Mr. Simmons made a most powerful and effective speech in favor of changing the law so as to remedy the discriminations that had been practiced against North Carolina towns. Senators LaFollette and Dixon as well as Senator Simmons were willing to take the Heyburn Amendment; but as that could not be passed, Senator Dixon, after conference, put in shape a proviso to be added to the Heyburn proposition, which probably would secure its adoption in the Senate. It provided that in certain special cases the Inter-State Commerce Commission might authorize an exception from the rigid rule; "but in no event shall the authority be granted unless the Commission is satisfied that all the rates involved are just and reasonable and not discriminatory nor unduly preferential or prejudicial."

It was thought that with this proviso added the Heyburn proposition could be passed; without it, not. Some of the administration Republicans, seeing that a majority would adopt the Dixon proposition, now joined with the Insurgents and Democrats; and the vote stood 50 to 12.

In order to get something substantially changing the law, Mr. Simmons voted for the substitution, but it was not a vote against the Heyburn proposition, but a vote for the substitution of another one that could be adopted. Later Senator Heyburn offered his proposition as a substitute for the Dixon one, which had been adopted; and the record shows that LaFollette and Dixon voted for it, and that Mr. Simmons also would have voted for it, if he had been in the Senate chamber. The vote stood 8 for it, and 47 against it.

The suggestion that Mr. Simmons was not favorable to any measure that was necessary to put an end to the discrimination against our North Carolina towns is without foundation, and on the contrary he has been aggressively active to amend the Inter-State Commerce act so as to work out these discriminations.

In addition to the Dixon amendment Senator Simmons introduced an amendment limiting the right of the Commission to grant such exemptions from the long and short haul clause as would destroy water competition by the railroads. After addressing the Senate on this it was adopted by the Senate, but it failed in conference.

He also introduced an amendment providing for physical valuation of railroads, and directing the Commission to use such valuations as basis for determining whether any rate under attack was a reasonable rate. After addressing the Senate on this amendment it failed by a vote of 23 to 30.

Senator Simmons has been at all times active to strengthen the commerce act in the interest of the people just as far as it could possibly be done in a Republican Senate, or, as he said in one of his speeches on it "until the Senate and House should be constituted in a way that would enable the people to come with increased DEMANDS WITH SOME HOPE AND ASSURANCE OF HAVING THEM RECOGNIZED." That will be in the next Senate, that will be Democratic, and of which Senator Simmons will be the Democratic leader.

During the closing days of the last session, when there was serious disagreement between the Democratic House and the Republican Senate on the matter of regulation of transportation through the Panama canal—a very delicate situation that seriously threatened foreign complications—a conference committee on the part of the Senate was appointed consisting of one standpat Republican, one progressive Republican, and Senator Simmons representing the Democrats. It is well-known that Senator Simmons and the progressive Republican, Senator Brewster, got together and shaped the report that was finally adopted. They practically re-wrote the measure and wrote into it the two most important provisions with reference to water transportation enacted in half a century. After setting the matter of tolls by giving free tolls to coastwise traffic, they added two other provisions as follows:

Placing all shipbuilding materials on the free list.

Dividing railroad ownership of water transportation facilities, and restoring active competition between water and rail transportation, except in such cases as the Inter-State Commerce Commission shall determine to be in the interest of the shipping public.

The Charleston News and Courier said editorially, that this was THE GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT IN THE INTEREST OF DEVELOPMENT OF WATER TRANSPORTATION IN HALF A CENTURY.

So much for having a leader on the job.

Well may Senator Simmons have said in his Charlotte speech that if he had no other achievement than this to look back upon he could retire from the Senate believing that he had done something worth while.

Senator Simmons has been impressed that our most valuable undeveloped and neglected source of wealth was in our water transportation—the development of these resources not only neglected, but the railroads permitted to drive out water competition but cut rates to some water points and by themselves controlling the water transportation in their own interests at other points. With the completion of the Panama canal, our inland waterway and deeper harbors and channels, free tolls for coastwise shipping, free trade in shipbuilding materials, and railroads required to keep hands off of water competition, it will be only a few years before we will see these great highways which belong to the people burdened with traffic that will give to us as favorable transportation conditions as any people have in the world. An like this Southern coast country will some day feel like building a monument to Senator Simmons.

Simmons' Campaign Manager.

FARM MORTGAGES.

Interesting Figures Soon to be Given Out by Census Bureau.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Statistics with reference to mortgage indebtedness of the farms of the United States are given in a report soon to be issued by Director Durand of the bureau of the census. Department of Commerce and Labor. The report was prepared under the supervision of John Lee Coulter, expert special agent for agriculture.

The total number of farms in the United States operated by their owners, which were mortgaged in 1910 is 1,327,439; while 2,621,283 were reported as free from mortgage. These figures show an increase since 1900 of 17.7 per cent. in the number of farms mortgaged, and of 4.4 per cent. in the number of farms free from mortgage. The report will show that 58,104 farms were operated by managers—a decrease of 1.7 per cent. since 1900, and 2,576,676 farms were operated by tenants, an increase of 15.3 per cent. since 1900. No statistics pertaining to mortgage indebtedness were secured for farms operated by tenants or hired managers. It would be practically impossible in many cases to reach the owners of such farms to ascertain the facts.

The total value of the land and buildings of the 1,006,511 farms for which both the fact of mortgage indebtedness and its amounts were reported was $6,350,000,000, and the amount of debt was $1,726,000,000 or 27.3 per cent. of the value. The corresponding proportion in 1890 as shown in the reports was 35.5 per cent. There was thus, during the 20 years a marked diminution in the relative importance of mortgage debt on the farms mortgaged, due primarily to the very rapid increase in the value of the land in farms. The average amount of mortgage indebtedness per farm increased from $1,244 in 1890 to $1,715 in 1910, but the average value per farm increased from $3,444 to $6,289 and there fore the owner's equity per farm increased from $2,220 to $4,574 or more than double.

The statistics with reference to the number of farms mortgaged for the past three censuses are not precisely comparable although nearly so. At the census of 1910 questions as to mortgage debt applied to all farms operated by owners, while at the two preceding censuses they applied only to the smaller class of "owned farm homes," those farms occupied by their owners as homes.

In making comparisons between geographic divisions and between censuses it should be borne in mind that the fact of mortgage indebtedness is not necessarily an indication of lack of prosperity. There can be no question but that American farmers generally were more prosperous in 1910 than at the two previous censuses and yet in that year a larger proportion of the farms were mortgaged. The proportion of mortgaged indebtedness is higher in Iowa and Wisconsin than in any of the other States and yet these States are among the most prosperous in agriculture. Although in some cases mortgages are placed on farms because of poor crops or other misfortunes or because of mismanagement, they often represent an unpaid portion of the cost of the farm itself, or money expended for additional land, or for buildings and implements and machinery and live stock.

In the United States as a whole the number of farms or farm homes operated or occupied by their owners, which were free from mortgage was less rapidly during each of the last two census decades than the number mortgaged. The proportion mortgaged was 28.2 per cent. in 1890, 31.1 per cent. in 1900, and 33.6 per cent. in 1910. In 1910 the proportion of owned farms mortgaged was highest (46.1 per cent.) in the West North Central; the lowest proportions (18.1 per cent., 22.7 per cent. and 20.8 per cent., respectively) being in the South Atlantic, East South Central and Mountain divisions.

In every geographic division except the Middle Atlantic the proportion of farms mortgaged was greater in 1910 than in 1900, and in every division except the West North Central the proportion was not greater in 1910 than in 1890. The most conspicuous increase in proportion of farms mortgaged has been in the three Southern divisions.

LARGER TOTAL SHOWN

Mineral Oil Exports From the United States, 1912

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Mineral oil exports from the United States in 1912 will show a larger total, both as to quantity and value, than in any earlier year. The quantity exported will, according to the latest figures of the Division of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, approximate 1,900 million gallons or an average of 5 million gallons a day, and the value 129 million dollars, or an average of about one-third of a million dollars a day.

The history of the export trade in mineral oil touches the half century line with the year 1912, the first statistical record of the exportation of mineral oils being that of the year 1862, when the value of the exports, including both crude and refined, was about 1 1/2 million dollars. By 1872 the exportation had risen to 34 million dollars; in 1882, 51 million; in 1892, 45 million; in 1902, 72 million; and in the fiscal year, 1912, 112 million; while in the calendar year, 1912, the total will approximate 120 million dollars. The total value of the mineral oils exported in the half century since the export movement began is almost 3 billion dollars, and the total during the last decade nearly 1 billion dollars.

Ninety-five per cent of this exportation, measured by value, goes in the manufactured form. The latest reports of the Department of Commerce and Labor show for the 8 months ending with August, 1912, $1 million dollars worth exported, of which 46 million dollars worth was illuminating oil, 19 million dollars worth lubricating and heavy paraffin oil, 13 million dollars worth gasoline, and other light products of distillation, 4 1/2 million dollars worth crude oil, and between 3 and 4 million dollars worth gas and fuel oil.

60 in number. Europe is by far the largest customer taking a little more than one-half of the illuminating oil, three-fourths of the lubricating, and over one-half of the gasoline and naphtha exports; while North America (chiefly Canada, Mexico, Panama and Cuba) takes about two-thirds of the crude petroleum exports.

Of the more than 1 billion gallons of illuminating oil exported in the fiscal year, 1912, the United Kingdom took 116 million gallons; Japan, 109 million; Germany, 92 million; China, 68 million, and British India, 57 million gallons. Of the 293 million gallons of lubricating oil exported in that year, 63 million gallons were sent to the United Kingdom, 25 1/2 million to France, and 24 million gallons to Germany. Of the 171 million gallons of gasoline, naphtha, and other lighter products of distillation exported in that year, 63 million gallons were sent to the United Kingdom, 25 1/2 million to France, and 24 million gallons to Germany.
